READY TO FIGHT, WABASH WORKMEN STAND ON GUARD

Lake Erie Lays Tracks on Its Coveted South Side Land and Arouses Fears of Further Advances.

ATTERBURY PROPERTY IS NOW AN ARMED CAMP

Armed with picks, shovels and pick handles, 300 Wabash railroad laborers awaited all yesterday afternoon and last night the oncoming of a like force of employes of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie road. The neutral ground between the would-be combatants was South First street. The cause of the threatened warfare was the supposed purpose of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie to cross from their own property, where they have laid imitation railroad tracks and occupy the Atterbury property which the Wabash recently bought.

That this was the purpose of the Lake Erie is denied by representatives of the company, but purpose or not, there was good reason not to carry it out, for 300 Gould men, ready to fight at a minute's notice, stood there to keep back the Vanderbilt hosts. The Wall street wars in which the Goulds have figured ever since their eastern plans were formed would not have been "one-two-three" to the real scrap that was brewing on the South Side last night.

Yohe Spoke of Yard Extensions.

"Why, we merely wanted to continue our yard extensions," innocently said General Superintendent J. B. Yohe of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie when asked as to the purpose of this work. "You know we have been adding to our yards right along."

Chief Engineer J. W. Patterson of the Wabash extension left for Atlantic City last evening and was not seen on the subject of the day's work. It is supposed that he will meet President Ramsey at the seashore today and talk about this latest move.

The real purpose of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie was undoubtedly to occupy the ground which the Wabash seeks to take from it by condemnation proceedings. Under the right of eminent domain, by which a railroad can take whatever property it needs for its right of way, the property of another railroad is not exempt unless actually occupied by the tracks or buildings of that railroad.

The property of the Lake Erie has not been occupied so far, although the company has owned it for over a year. The haste of the Lake Erie was then to occupy this ground as soon as possible in order to have a better claim for damages in the courts or to keep the Wabash from taking it at all. There are said to be serious doubts as to this work being done soon enough. The ground was not occupied when the condemnation bonds were filed.

In addition to the new tracks laid on the property the Wabash wants, the Lake Erie people placed a new track transversely across some property it owns adjoining the city freight yards along Smithfield street. Since the Wabash will have to cross this track its purpose is supposed to be to blockade.

It is said that the property beneath the Panhandle bridge, where the Lake Erie's new tracks were laid, belongs to the Panhandle, and that the Pennsylvania is with the Lake Erie in this fight against the Gould line.

In order to get to the guarded Wabash property it will be necessary for the Lake Erie to cross South First street and so far as known no right to do this is possessed by the road.

The encampment of brawney men in the midst of Pittsburgh with the deliberate and open purpose of preventing by main force any infringement upon the property of their employers, possessed almost as many unique and interesting features as are found in real warfare. And the only representative of the city's law and order force was a single policeman who wandered in for a little while to see the sights.

How Forces Were Commanded.

The Wabash drew its men from the camp of William Kenefick & Co., the contractors who are digging the great Greentree tunnel. They were in charge of Peter T. McAtee, superintendent at the west end of the tunnel, assisted by his son, Edward T. McAtee, and John Rogers and Harry Houston, both walking bosses. Engineer Moore, who is in charge of the engineering work on the big tunnel, was in general charge of the Wabash men.

For the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie the aggressive work was in the hands of Foremen M. T. Boyle and E. W. Ewing, General Superintendent J. B. Yohe went to the scene about 8 p. m., but only to look it over.

Reserve Wabash forces, consisting of several hundred men from the camp of Contractor Ferguson, who is digging the Mt. Washington tunnel of the Wabash were held ready last night to be brought quickly to the scene in case there should be need for more men. These were in command of Superintendent McCowan, who was in constant touch by telephone and could be had quickly. The Wabash men officials slept at the Hotel Birmingham, within a block of the disputed ground, ready to go out whenever they might be needed.

Fortifications Were Erected.

Not content with merely forces of men, the Wabash generals ordered the construction of fortifications, and the result was by common consent named "Fort Ramsey." Discarded railroad ties were obtained from somewhere or other, and piled in regular rows, breast high, along the Atterbury property, which extends along the west side of South First street. Over this was brown earth lest a stray pick might find its way through between the ties, and two dozen great drays were drawn along the inside of the fort as a cordon. Behind this breastwork the forces of Gould withdrew and with such fearlessness hurled defiance at those of Vanderbilt that the latter precipitously took the next train for Monongahela City, where they live, and Gould conquered. Of course, his being a winner is conditional upon there having been something to fight for, and this is not yet plain. It is said by the war correspondent who followed the Vanderbilt forces that the reasons for Vanderbilt withdrawal was the end of the work-day.

Wonderful Engineering Work.

But that workday had not been without results. The force of Lake Erie men succeeded in evolving some entirely new ideas of railroad construction. All over the small piece of property which the Wabash wants, and which until yesterday was not occupied, tracks had been laid. It is said, at least, that there are tracks, although this, too, is under dispute.

Some of those who inspected the deserted Vanderbilt camp insist that they are the first story of a roller coaster. They have grades perilously close to 90 degrees, while the curves are several times that great. The road bed is a composite of tin cans and straw. The fact that a few ditches six feet deep and wide need to be crossed bothered the builders not a bit. They were easily overcome by lying a tie on each side and the rails on the ties.

Perhaps half a mile of tracks was laid yesterday, counting the total lengths of all the parallel lines, and there is said to be between 50 and 55 ties altogether. "That's probably the worst railroad in the world," mournfully remarked one old railroad builder as he gazed upon the results of this day of haste.

Foreign Warriors Ready to Scrap.

There was no work in the camps of Kenefick & Co. yesterday because two-thirds of the men are Catholics, and yesterday was "Big Sunday" to them. None of the Italians could tell exactly what feast day of the church it was, but they all knew it was a very important one. It was the feast day of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin.

The men were idling their time away about camp when the foremen were called upon for men. Going to where the men were they explained what was wanted, and all volunteered to a man. There were no sulkers. Some of the men have been employed by the different bosses for years, and are ready to do anything they say without questioning whether it is right or wrong, or whether it is in the line of the work they are hired to do or not.

Many of the Italians worked for years in the St. Gothard and Simplon tunnels through the Alps, and are experts at the work. "This is fun for the Italians," said Engineer Moore of Kenefick's engineering force. "It reminds them of home. They are always in a scrap of some kind there."

Col. Peter T. McAtee, when nightfall came, started in to make his camp secure

PENNYPACKER'S CONSENT GIVEN TO THE CITIZENS

Chairman C. S. Crawford Reaches Agreement With Him.

FORMAL ACCEPTANCE MAY NOT BE WRITTEN

Judge S. W. Pennypacker, Republican nominee for governor, has given the Citizens party permission to file nomination papers indorsing his candidacy. This settles all doubt about the question of his acceptance, if there really ever was any doubt.

Charles S. Crawford spent yesterday in Philadelphia in consultation with Judge Pennypacker. Late in the afternoon he telephoned Thomas S. Bigelow that his talk with the nominee had been entirely satisfactory and that he would accept the nomination. Mr. Crawford will come to Pittsburgh today and prepare the necessary nomination papers.

Nothing was said about a formal letter of acceptance. It may be that the judge has abandoned that method of accepting the proffered aid of the Citizens. The Citizens are satisfied with securing permission from the candidate to allow the use of his name.

Will Require Many Signers.

To place the names of Judge Pennypacker, William M. Brown and T. H. Brown on the ballot it will be necessary to secure 2,117 signatures to the nomination papers. This number represents one-half of 1 per cent of the largest vote polled by a state candidate last fall. While the candidates are to be voted for in the state at large the signers can all be qualified electors of this county.

It will not be much trouble to secure this number of names. The Citizens have a good organization and it will require but a short time to get the machinery in motion. While separate papers will have to be filed for each candidate, there is nothing to prevent an elector from signing all of the papers. The nominations do not have to be filed in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth until 25 days before the election. In case the machine desires to object to the papers and to contest the validity of the nomination in the courts, written objection must be filed at least 28 days prior to the election. If this is not done the papers are deemed to be valid and the secretary of the commonwealth will certify them.

Citizens party headquarters will be opened in Coraopolis tonight. All of the county candidates are to be present. There will be red fire and speechmaking.

ALLEGED ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE EX-GOV. PATTISON

Box Containing Several Pounds of High Explosive Sent to Him by Mail.

ARRESTS ARE EXPECTED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Aug. 15.—The North American publishes the following this morning:

An attempt upon the life of Robert E. Pattison, former governor, and at present the Democratic nominee for the same office, was made in this city, the information just coming to light.

An infernal machine, containing several pounds of gunpowder in a concentrated and highly powerful form, was sent to Mr. Pattison by mail. The sender of the package neglected to place the means of ignition in the parcel, trusting to circumstances for the working out of his plan. The senders of the package are under surveillance and arrests are expected within a few hours.

When former Gov. Pattison received the package he opened it and was under the impression that he had received a sample of some culm which is being treated by a company of which he is a director. When informed of the true nature of the substance his surprise knew no bounds.

The test of the strength of the powder was made at the League Island navy yard by Capt. Delano, ordnance officer. He declared positively that it was powder of the same character as that which is stored at Fort Mifflin and said that there was a possibility that it might have been secured at that place.

The first intimation that there was a plot to assassinate the Democratic nominee was gleaned from an anonymous letter received by the Philadelphia North American. The letter said: "There are rumors that a downtown gang are sending an infernal machine to Gov. Pattison. Do you know anything about it?"

The letter was regarded as a practical joke, but yesterday a second anonymous letter was received. It urged immediate action upon the part of the paper and the outline of the plot was given.

The little cylinderical box was filled with a greasy matter resembling vaselin or glycerin. It was believed when the package was first opened that it was one of the highly charged glycerin explosives and on that belief the experts are now engaged. They are putting the substance to the most severe tests known, without endangering their lives.

The donation is in the form of a perpetual endowment.

WOMAN KILLED BY STREET CAR IN EAST END

Mrs. S. C. Focer Crushed to Death in Negley Avenue.

ACCIDENT WAS SEEN BY MANY STROLLERS

Mrs. Mary D. Focer, wife of S. C. Focer, a wholesale fruit and produce merchant, doing business at No. 1728 Penn avenue, was struck and almost instantly killed last evening about 7:45 o'clock at North Negley avenue and Harvard street, East End, by a car of the Pittsburgh Railways Company. Mrs. Focer's skull was crushed under the car and she was otherwise badly bruised.

Shortly after she was struck she was taken from under the car and carried to a nearby residence, where Dr. J. W. Worrell of No. 120 South Negley avenue and Dr. E. C. Stuart of No. 5604 Penn avenue attended her until she died, about 15 minutes after the accident occurred.

The killing of Mrs. Focer was one of the most horrible accidents that has taken place in the East End, and was witnessed by a large number of residents of that district who were out on the streets taking an after-dinner walk, in the cool of the evening.

No One Knew Her.

The accident attracted a large crowd to the scene, but no one could be found who was able to identify the woman, who carried only a pocketbook containing 20 cents and a card. The body was taken to the morgue, and identified by Mr. Focer and his 15-year-old son, Walter H. Focer.

The Focer family lives at No. 5435 Black street, East End, where Mr. Focer and his son, Walter, were alone when the accident happened. Mr. Focer had retired shortly after his wife left home, and was suddenly awakened and horrified to hear people on the streets shouting that a woman had been killed. Upon investigation he learned that the woman killed bore his name, and upon consulting the city directory, made the terrible discovery that he was the only resident of Pittsburgh by the name of Focer.

Fears Were Realized.

Mr. Focer hurriedly dressed, and after learning that the body had been taken to the morgue, he, with his son, boarded a street car and went in to the city. On reaching the morgue, his worst fears were realized, as he found the body of the dead woman lying on the cold marble slab was that of his wife. Mr. Focer immediately notified Undertaker Thomas B. Moreland to take charge of the body.

BIG LEGAL BATTLE FOR FAIR MILLIONS BEGINNING AFRESH

Courts of California Will Be Called Upon to Decide Which Died First in Automobile Accident, Husband or Wife.

SPEED MADNESS CAUSE OF TRAGEDY IN FRANCE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 15.—Upon the point whether Charles T. Fair was instantly killed, or whether his wife survived him, even for an instant, after the fatal automobile accident which ended both their lives in France, depends the disposition of his share in his father's millions.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fair left wills made a year ago. There are rumors that Mr. Fair made a later will, and a search is being made for it. Mrs. Fair's will is understood to have left all to her relatives, who are thus certain of her private fortune, between $500,000 and $1,000,000 and in case she lived longest her husband's millions also. Mrs. Hannah Nelson, Mrs. Fair's mother, will go to San Francisco at once to look after her interests.

Through all the avenues of the story the idea of premonition shows strong. Mr. Oelrichs said he never expected Mr. Fair to return; Mrs. Fair told her mother of fears, and the automobile was in a previous collision, which frightened her.

BOULDER, COL., Aug. 15.—C. J. Smith, a real estate dealer of Boulder, is a brother of the late Mrs. Charles Fair. Mr. Smith said that all his family lived in New Jersey. Mr. Smith went to Denver today on receipt of a telegram from a nephew connected with a New York law firm, advising him to see an attorney.

The Talk in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—The matter of the disposition of the estate of Charles Fair and his wife has given rise to some little speculation as to what will become of Charles Fair's portion of his deceased father's immense holdings. It is a known fact that a very short time ago both Mr. and Mrs. Fair made wills disposing of their separate holdings and the community property, but just what the documents provide for Messrs. Knight and Haggerty, the attorneys of Charles Fair, do not feel at liberty to make public at this time. Mrs. Fair was possessed of property to the value of $350,000, and it is thought her will bequeaths her holdings to relatives in New Jersey, but in the event of evidence being adduced that Charles Fair succumbed to his injuries first, Mrs. Fair's interest in the community property will naturally revert to her heirs, and it is this point on which the disposition of the millionaire's estate largely depends.

There being some division of opinion among the friends and relatives of Charles Fair as to whether the will of Fair, now in the hands of Knight & Haggerty, his attorneys, was the last made by him, Judge Carroll Cook today issued an order granting the attorneys permission to search the several safe deposit boxes used by Mr. Fair.

Bodies Taken to Paris.

PARIS, Aug. 15.—The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fair, who were killed in an automobile accident yesterday near Evreux, were embalmed and placed in coffins today, after which they were shipped to Paris, whence they will be taken to San Francisco.

The chauffeur said today that before the accident he noticed the tire of the left hind wheel of the machine was deflated and that the rim of the wheel was rubbing on the ground. He told Mr. Fair, who tried to stop, and the accident followed.

Peasants who saw the automobile say it was going at such a terrific pace at some points that it was impossible to distinguish its color. The firm that sold Mr. Fair the automobile last June say he paid $12,000 for it, and ordered another at the same price to be of 60-horse power. The second machine was almost ready for delivery.

Mr. Fair was passionately fond of automobiling and never missed a day on the road. Several times he attempted to break the one hour record.

The tragic death of Mr. and Mrs. Fair is the sensation of the city and the leading topic of conversation among American residents and in automobile circles.

The manager of the firm which sold Mr. Fair the automobile in which he met his death declared in an interview today that he had more than once warned Mr. Fair that he was too imprudent. He said Mr. Fair had thes need madness and had met with an accident the latter part of June when he collided with another automobile on the Avenue des Champs-Elysees in Paris, but lockily no one was killed.

"I attribute the accident," said the manager of the firm, "to the condition of the road where the disaster happened. At this point there is a steep and treacherous incline down which Mr. Fair must have gone at full speed and his automobile which was capable of running about 98 miles on the flat would then have attained a speed of from 87 to 93 miles an hour. Mr. Fair was not a skillful driver, like W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr. In fact, he had not driven an automobile very much prior to purchasing this machine from us."

Dr. Perriquet, who was summoned after the accident, says when he reached the scene of the disaster both Mr. and Mrs. Fair were dead. They had apparently bn killd outright. The gatekeeper and other persons connected with the chateau also thought that both were dead when picked up.

PRESIDENT SCHWAB IS NOT TO BE RETIRED

High Officials of Steel Corporation in and About Pittsburgh Laugh at the Rumor.

The New York report that Charles M. Schwab is to be retired from the presidency of the United States Steel Corporation is, as it was at its inception, without a leg to stand on. Charles M. Schwab will continue as the executive head of the organization till such time as he chooses to quit.

Denial of the report by leading Pittsburgh representatives of the United States Steel Corporation was absolute. A leading executive of the Carnegie Steel Company, National Steel Company and American Steel Hoop Company said:

"The report is so absurd that it scarcely calls for a denial. Mr. Schwab will continue in office indefinitely. The report is stuff and nonsense."

One of the Pittsburgh directors of the corporation said: "There is nothing to back up the report. Schwab is stronger today with the people who consented to and urged his being placed at the head of affairs than he ever was. He has been ill, but he is recovering rapidly and will never be deposed."

The corporation people discussing the matter are as strong in their friendship for James Gayley, the vice president mentioned as Mr. Schwab's successor, as in his. Mr. Gayley is probably foremost of the blast furnace experts of the country. On this account he was chosen at the instance of the Carnegie people for the high executive position in the corporation that he now holds. He might be a logical successor for Schwab if the president were to retire, but he is not. Pittsburghers who know both very well say these things.

The president of the big corporation is now at his Loretta home. He is resting and is rapidly recovering his erstwhile vigor, which is quite as great as a financier as it is as a mill expert.

PREACHER FOUGHT ROBBERS.

Thinks He Killed One Member of Band of Thieves.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—While passing over a dark road, last night between Glendale and League, with a large sum of money in his pocket, the Rev. C. E. Chalfant of the United Brethren church, was held up by highwaymen, who ordered him to throw up his hands. His answer was a shot from his revolver. Another quickly followed it and the man ran.

Another man then grabbed Mr. Chalfant and he fired at him. The man dropped and Mr. Chalfant thinks he killed him, but a search failed to reveal any person, dead or alive.

LONE BURGLAR LOOTED HOMES OF SIX FAMILIES

Woodlawn Avenue Mansions Were Ransacked by Nervy Thief.

HE WANTED ONLY MONEY

Cooly Went Over Houses Looking for Cash and Passed Up Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Jewelry and Silver Plate—Did Not Fear Police.

A single burglar systematically "worked" six houses on Woodlawn avenue yesterday morning. The total of his haul, according to the detectives, did not amount to more than $140, but that valuables worth thousands of dollars were not taken is due to the forbearance of the burglar. Evidently the man wanted money only, for he cast aside silver purses, turned up his nose at solid silver plate, and scornfully rejected jewelry. The houses adjoin one another and the burglar visited them one after another, apparently not afraid of police or private watchmen.

Detectives James Eagan and George Cole were put on the case by Superintendent of Detectives Demmel. They visited the houses, heard the stories of the burglar's victims and came away without, they say, finding a single clue.

It was about 2 a. m. when George P. Goettmann, the Diamond street restaurant proprietor, was awakened from his sleep. Goettmann, his wife and child were sleeping in a front room in the second story. It was the snapping of the electric light switch in the hall that aroused Goettmann. In a few seconds the rays of a dark lantern were cast through the door of the bedroom.

Goettmann promptly shut his eyes, breathed as naturally as possible, and by the effect on his closed eyes knew that the burglar was inspecting his face with the aid of the lantern. Then the burglar stepped into the room, and Goettmann opened his eyes.

The man first cut the telephone wires, then looted the dresser. He took $50 out of Mrs. Goettmann's chatelaine bag and threw down the bag, which was of solid silver. Then he went to the rear room.

Mr. Goettmann had a revolver in the drawer of a chiffonier, but he was not hunting burglars. Instead he quietly got out of bed and shook the window shade to make a noise. The burglar heard it and shot down the stairs. On investigation after a good long interval Mr. Goettmann found that the burglar had also taken his pocketbook, containing $10.

The burglar found a pick in the rear of Goettmann's yard and with it pried up a rear window in the house of A. C. McElveen, of the McElveen Furniture Company. Mr. McElveen had a dog in the house, and the dog barked and scared the intruder away. The pick was found under the window.

The man got into the house of John C. Evans, No. 5145 Woodlawn avenue. K. R. Jones has a room in the house. Mr. Jones was awakened by the flash of a dark lantern in his face. He prudently closed his eyes when the burglar came into the room, and made no move while the fellow went through the pockets of a pair of trousers that lay on a chair and took $50 in bills. Out of Mr. Evans' trousers $20 more was stolen.

There were marks to show that the burglar had got into Thomas M. Schwartz's house in the same street, but nothing was stolen.

H. C. McEldowney, president of the Union Trust Company, lives at No. 5135 Woodlawn avenue, his house on Squirrel hill having burned down last winter. The detectives say that the family is away, but that the front door was unlocked and a side window open. Whether anything was stolen they do not know. The house is filled with valuables, but as things just as costly were undisturbed in other houses, they presume the burglar, if he went in, took nothing.

SAYS ELECTION SMACKED OF BEER

SCHOOL BOARD DEADLOCK BROKEN AND DIRECTOR MAKES CHARGES.

He Claims That a Brewing Company Exerted an Influence by Promising Valuable Saloon Locations—Timothy O'Leary Appears to Be Interested.

The deadlock over the selection of a teacher for the O'Hara sub-district school was broken last night after 700 ballots had been taken. Director Thomas Gorman openly declared the whole proceedings smacked of beer, making the charge that a brewing company has exercised an influence in behalf of one of the applicants by promising saloon locations.

The O'Hara school is in the Twelfth ward. Since last June the board has been in a deadlock over the selection of a teacher for grade eight. On the seven hundredth ballot last night Mrs. Nettie Lowenstein of the Twentieth ward was elected. After the election Gorman read the charge against the brewing company.

Thomas Gorman, Thomas McCann, William Collins, Martin Hauck, John Breen and Owen Welsh compose the board and are Democrats. The contestants were Misses Ida Frank, Edna Marshall, former assistant principal of the school; Cora Letters and Nettie Lowenstein. Last night the contest had simmered down to two favorites, Miss Letters and Miss Nettie Lowenstein. Gorman, McCann and Breen favored the former and Hauck, Collins and Welsh the latter. Seventeen ballots were taken without any change of the combination, but on the eighteenth ballot Breen went to the Lowenstein forces, his vote breaking the deadlock.

Thomas Gorman stated that the entire contest smacked of beer. He said he had been approached by numerous Penn avenue saloonkeepers who appeared interested in Miss Lowenstein's behalf.

He said that at the Democratic convention Timothy O'Leary told him he was in the wrong and unless he changed his support he would be ruined politically when his term expired. Mr. Gorman also accused W. J. Ryan, the Fourth legislative district candidate, as being active in working for Miss Lowenstein's cause.

which will be sent to Philadelphia, the woman's home, for interment.

According to the statement made by Dr. Worrell last evening, shortly after the accident took place, it seems that Mrs. Focer had been standing at North Negley avenue and Howard street, waiting on a car going south. When the car approached the corner, Mrs. Focer stepped out into the street, to walk to the opposite corner. Center and Negley car No. 417 was coming in the opposite direction from the car she wished to take, and not seeing it, she stepped directly in front of it.

The car was running at a rapid speed and before anyone was able to cry out a warning Mrs. Focer had been struck and the front truck of the car had passed over her body.

Last night Mr. Focer at the morgue said that his wife was 41 years old. She was a member of the Emory Methodist Episcopal church and had left her home to attend the tent meeting, held last night under the auspices of the Emory church, at North Negley avenue and Broad street, East End. This was the last time he saw his wife, until he identified the remains at the morgue.

Another son, Joseph C., 18 years old, did not learn of his mother's awful death under the car wheels until after he returned late last night from Kennywood park, where he had gone earlier in the day to attend a picnic.

JUDGE PENNYPACKER BOOKED AT ALLENTOWN

Will Appear at Preliminary Meeting With Senator Penrose—Campaign in Fine Condition.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Aug. 15.—Judge Pennypacker will make his first political speech at Allentown, August 23. It will be brief, as Senator Penrose is billed to do the heavy work. Officially considered, the Allentown meeting is not to be the formal opening of the campaign. That will come several weeks later, possibly not until the close of September, when a meeting will be arranged for, either in Pittsburgh, Harrisburg or Philadelphia. Then the tour of the state will begin.

Samuel P. White, candidate for state senator in the Beaver-Washington district, visited state headquarters today. Ex-Senator William M. Brown, candidate for lieutenant governor, was with him. Mr. Brown said he had been told that Charles S. Crawford, chairman of the Citizens party committee of Pittsburgh, was in the city and that Crawford was looking for him. It could not be ascertained whether a meeting took place.

Ex-Senator Brown and Senator Penrose went to Atlantic City on an early train. Mr. Crawford is not registered at any of the local hotels, and he, too, presumably, went to the shore. Here it is believed that Crawford's mission is to notify the two Browns of their indorsement.

"There is no real tangible opposition so far in this campaign," said Secretary W. R. Andrews, who is acting chairman in the absence of Col. Quay. "Reports from every county have been received, and in my many years of experience handling this correspondence I have never received so much encouragement. Republicans everywhere are enthusiastically outspoken for Pennypacker, and many Democrats have promised to vote our ticket."

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 15.—County Recorder George M. von Bonnhorst is here, but at 10 o'clock tonight Senator Quay said the recorder had not yet called upon him.

Senator Penrose was a caller at the Quay cottage tonight. He said he had received some letters regarding the efforts to settle the strike in the anthracite coal regions, but thus far there has been nothing to substantiate the report that the strikers and business men had sent thousands of messages to both senators, urging them to bring about a settlement.

TROOPS CHARGED MOB IN ANTHRACITE FIELD

Striking Miners Cause an Outbreak Near the Camp of the Soldiers.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHENANDOAH, PA., Aug. 15.—There was an outbreak tonight under the nose of the troops in camp and for a time it looked as though serious trouble would occur. The disorder was the result of a mob chasing an alleged unfair workman in the southeastern part of the town. There were 50 or 60 men in the mob.

As they chased the man up the railroad, throwing stones at him, the night watchman of the washery tried to rescue the man. The watchman was promptly thrown into a creek. The crowd kept after the workman and he ran to the Reading railroad station, where a company of infantry was on provost duty.

The company was immediately called into formation and attempted to hold the crowd back. The captain exercised great patience and prevented serious trouble. The mob caused a large crowd to gather from all directions and word was immediately sent to camp for reinforcements. In nine minutes the entire Twelfth regiment and a battalion of the Eighth were on the scene. The crowd quickly scattered.

FIRST PRESIDENT OF CUBA CHARGED WITH INCOMPETENCE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

HAVANA, Aug. 15.—During the last few days several Havana newspapers have been making violent onslaughts upon the chief executive of the republic, accusing him of incompetence, ignorance and weakness in not having as yet done anything useful for the country. The Lucha claims that President Palma's promises to treat the various elements in Cuba alike have not been kept, and declares that what the executive wants is to govern without law and to ignore the constitution. The paper says that, in spite of the repeated requests of congress, President Palma has not yet presented the budget.

The Discusion says that congress is wasting time lamentably, and declares that a number of laws have been delayed either in the house of representatives or in the senate. Congress must do more work, says the paper, or the session will pass without the accomplishment of anything for the vital interests of the country.

In the house of representatives today it was voted that none of the fortresses or arsenals of the Cuban republic could be leased or sold by the government.

GREAT THRONG CHEERS FLORAL CHAIR PARADE

Evening Carnival at Atlantic City Draws Thousands to Famous Esplanade.

THE GAZETTE IN LINE

Hearty Applause Greets Beautiful Representative of the Old Lady. "Watch Her Grow Young"—All Prizes Go to Home Competitors.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 15.—The first floral chair parade ever held in Atlantic City was a success far beyond the expectations of its promoters. Never was a larger throng seen on the famous esplanade, and it was so dense, especially in the vicinity of the judges' stand, that the decorated rolling chairs could not be displayed to the extent that had been desired.

As the start was to be made from the Royal Palace hotel, the chairs of the participants had to be rolled a mile or more from the places where they had been decorated in order to get into line. There was an ovation in honor of The Gazette, the only representative of Pittsburgh, all along the route to the starting point, the handclapping being interspersed with cries of "Hurrah for the Gazette," "Hurrah for the old lady," and "Hurrah for Pittsburgh." These greetings came from Pittsburghers, thousands of whom had gathered to see the parade, and thousands of lips repeated that now familiar phrase, "Watch the old lady grow young."

There were similar demonstrations, but longer and louder, when The Gazette chair passed over the route of the parade, its occupant being Mrs. Anna L. Massey, and its pusher being John Boughton, a young colored man, who wore, in addition to other articles of attire, a tall silk hat, and a long overcoat, the latter bearing the inscription, "Watch the old lady grow young."

Start Made at 5 o'clock.

The parade, which did not start until nearly 5 o'clock this afternoon, moved in the following order: Platoon of police, Guenther's Famous Forty band, hotel division, children's division, wheel chair division and industrial division. It consumed three-quarters of an hour in passing the reviewing stand.

The route was from the Royal Palace hotel to the Hotel Agnew, three miles distant, and at the latter point the parade disbanded. So great was the throng of spectators that the representative of the biograph machine, who has taken pictures in all parts of the world, declared he had never before seen such a sea of human faces.

There were many novel and beautiful decorative effects in the parade as a result of the rivalry between florists. Many of the chairs were gorgeous in coloring, being in striking contrast with that of The Gazette, which was decorated entirely in green and white. Over the top was spread a canopy of asparagus fern, and from that depended festoons of the same fern along the sides and in front. The flowers were white asters and large clusters of white hydranges. On each side was the inscription:

"The Pittsburgh Gazette—117 years old. Watch the old lady grow young."

The floral designing was in accordance with the desire of the occupant of the chair, Mrs. Massey, who was charmingly gowned in pure white India linen, trimmed with white satin and beading. She wore full length white suede gloves, and carried a large bouquet of American beauty roses.

Prize Winners All Local.

All of the prizes were won by local contestants as follows: Hotel division, first prize, St. Charles; second, Rudolf; industrial division, George H. Berke, florist; individual chair, Mayor Franklin P. Stoy; best gowned woman, Mrs. Robert Dunlop of the Hotel Dunlop; honorable mention, Sorosis shoe exhibit; special mention, Waterman pen exhibit.

Mrs. Massey, who graced The Gazette chair, is a dainty little woman whose hair has been prematurely whitened by bereavement. She was born in Richmond, Va., in April, 1861, and educated at an academy for young women in Philadelphia, graduating when she was but 15 years old. On September 15, 1876, she became the wife of Edmund White Massey, a prominent citizen of Virginia, who had been an officer in the confederate army, serving for a time on the staff of Jefferson Davis.

Mrs. Massey went as a bride to Fortress Monroe, where her husband had been stationed as collector of customs. He was appointed to the office by President Ulysses S. Grant, and his commission is a precious souvenir which Mrs. Massey carefully guards.

Mr. Massey had been elected a state senator and after he had been transferred to Norfolk as customs collector he resigned the senatorship in compliance with the law prohibiting the holding of two offices by one person at the same time. While in the senate Mr. Massey was noted for his brilliancy of thought and oratory. In 1894 he was stricken with apoplexy while in the garden at his home, and died almost immediately. The shock to Mrs. Massey was so severe that within three days her hair turned gray, and since then has whitened.

Sought Relief in Travel.

Mrs. Massey sought relief from trouble by traveling, and visited nearly every place of importance in this country, for she had previously traveled in Europe. In the course of her journeys she made hundreds of friends, among them many men and women of prominence, and those who have come to Atlantic City this season have renewed the friendship.

In 1897 Mrs. Massey decided to begin a life of activity, and accepted an offer to become a physician's assistant. She retained the position until early this year, when she came to Atlantic City and took charge of Vail Bros'. toilet requisites. She opened a branch department on the boardwalk, immediately opposite the Steel pier, and there she has done a prosperous business, especially in the line of perfumes and lotions. Mrs. Massey is a brilliant conversationalist, speaks French, and is gifted with a cheerful and pleasing disposition. Owing to the fairness of her complexion her portraits fail to do her justice.

MRS. ANNA L. MASSEY,
Occupant of The Gazette Chair in the Floral Parade.

The Gazette chair was decorated by Deroux B. Edwards, the leading florist of Atlantic City, and who for 18 years has been in business at Floral hall, on South Carolina avenue, a short distance from Pacific. Mr. Edwards is patronized largely by Pittsburghers, and they have always found him courteous and obliging to a marked degree. He is called upon to do the decorating at the principal weddings and social functions in Atlantic City and vicinity, and has also done much excellent work in landscape gardening. The gardens, shrubbery and ornamental hedges at his place of business on South Carolina avenue bear ample testimony to his skill as a florist.

land Fishing club returned from their Canadian fishing grounds yesterday. All claim to be ignorant of things political here. While they admit that Harry S. Paul, president of the Union party, was with them, every fisherman denies that deals were made. Fishermen, like poets, are allowed an especial license when it comes to a point of veracity.

Register Fred W. Edwards insists that the organization will win. While he admits that a hot fight is certain, he is too good a politician to say that he and his machine colleagues are in danger. He dropped the remark that there would possibly be a half-dozen new tickets in the field, but when pressed for an explanation said he was "just surmising."

It may be that the old organization intends to go into the mushroom party-making business on the basis that it is a good thing to be in as many columns as possible.

A. F. Cooper, the Republican candidate of Fayette, in the Twenty-third congressional district, did not come to Pittsburgh yesterday, although J. A. Berkey of Somerset and D. F. Walton of Greene waited for him. His failure to come may be taken as an indication that Fayette is not ready to go into the conference unless it is given a larger representation than either of the other counties.

OFFICER FIRES INTO A CROWD OF PEDESTRIANS

One Man Objected to Being Used as a Target and Was Arrested.

VICTIM WAS ALSO CURSED

Most of the Time of Magistrate McGarey Consumed in Discharging Innocent Prisoners and Reprimanding Stupid Policemen.

Blundering policemen were greatly in evidence at the Central station police court yesterday. The time of Magistrate David J. McGarey was chiefly consumed in discharging innocent persons and reprimanding ignorant officers.

As an illustration of the necessity of getting some men on the force with at least a bit of horse sense, the magistrate was amazed to learn that one of Leslie's guardians of the peace had emptied the chambers of his revolver at the fleeing form of an alleged uvenile corner loafer, even though the path of the boy's flight led through a crowded thoroughfare. When a pedestrian objected to the use of his body as a target he was promptly arrested and damned for his protestation. This policeman has a colleague on the force whose bump of stupidity is equally well developed. He endavored to crown himself with glory and secure a place on the "roll of honor" by arresting two boys because they happened to have a donkey.

The spectacle of a policeman in plain clothes chasing a small boy madly along Fifth avenue and firing bullet after bullet into a large crowd of people caused James ("Reddy") Mason, a well-known man about town, to criticise Officer J. E. McElroy, who did the trick. McElroy overheard Mason and placed him under arrest, with many an oath. Mason was discharged yesterday morning by Police Magistrate David J. McGarey, who listened in astonishment as the story was unfolded.

McElroy Uses His Gun.

Officer McElroy for several weeks has been doing work in plain clothes along Fifth avenue, from Smithfield street to Brady street. His especial duty has been to warn young men and boys away from the street corners. As he was working in plain clothes his orders were often unheeded, and when anyone demurred it was promptly followed by an arrest. Thursday night McElroy was on duty, as usual, and passing Fifth avenue and Marion street he found a number of young men and boys standing at the corner. He ordered them to move on, but as none of them knew him to be an officer none of them paid any attention to his remarks.

McElroy grasped a youth of about 18 years by the collar and at the same time displayed his badge, which he wore on his vest, concealed by the coat. The young fellow wriggled for a moment and with a triumphant shout slipped out of the coat and ran down Fifth avenue. McElroy gave chase and ordered the boy to stop. He ran on. McElroy drew his revolver and emptied it at the boy, none of the bullets taking effect.

Coming up Fifth avenue were a number of people, and those who saw the incident held their breaths and turned away, for it did not seem possible that the bullets could miss in such a large crowd. None of them took effect, however. McElroy caught the boy.

Mason, who had just alighted from a passing car, heard the shots, and saw the boy running. He did not know the man to be an officer, and he made a criticising remark about the officer to a bystander. McElroy heard the remark, and he promptly placed Mason under arrest, and sent both offenders to Central station. Mason left at forefit for his appearance yesterday morning, and when he had told his story to Magistrate McGarey he was promptly discharged, and the officer came in for a reprimand. The boy was also discharged.

Innocent Man Assaulted.

Magistrate McGarey had occasion to reprimand another policeman yesterday morning. Officer Samuel Srolovitz, who was appointed a patrolman a short time ago, arrested Thomas Cramer in front of the Commercial hotel in Sixth street late Thursday night. At the hearing yesterday the officer told Magistrate McGarey that Cramer and a crowd of young fellows were standing in front of the hotel singing and that Cramer had struck him when he told him to move on.

Cramer was asked for his story and said: "I wish you would continue this case until tomorrow morning. There were several of us in the party and there was no disorder so far as we were concerned. We had come out of the hotel barroom, and were talking on the sidewalk. This policeman came along and started to push me. I told him to stop, that I would walk, and he struck me with his mace." Cramer showed a large bruise on his forehead where the officer had struck him. Cramr gave the magistrate his address and said he had lived there all his life.

Joseph Tyler, who was in the party, told Magistrate McGarey substantially the same story, and Cramer was promptly discharged. The magistrate told the officer he had made a mistake, and told him this in no uncertain manner.

Elmer Sweinger and Ralph Serge were arrested Thursday at midnight as suspicious persons by Policeman C. R. Thompson in Sixth avenue near Grant street. The two boys were leading a donkey down the street. Both told the policeman that they had got the donkey in Bellevue to take to Culp's grain exchange. As the exchange was closed when they got there they could not deliver the animal. The boys told the same story. Magistrate McGarey yesterday at their hearing discharged them.

Leslie Advises the Public.

Director A. H. Leslie of the department of safety has found it necessary to inform the public how to proceed against blundering policemen. He says that the injured person can either ask for a hearing before the police board or take the offending officer into court. In event of the latter course being adopted, the police board will not act until the courts have given a decision.

Frank McCullough, the sanitary policeman who shot William E. Dunn in front of a Third avenue speakeasy Thursday night, was sent to jail yesterday on the charge of felonious assault, to await the result of the injury to Dunn. Director Leslie said yesterday that McCullough was not a policeman. He had been on the force, but was discharged in January, 1901, for conduct unbecoming an officer. The director admitted that McCullough was a sanitary officer in one of his bureaus, but he explained that it is not always easy to secure the services of sanitary policemen, and that that fact accounted for the employment of McCullough despite his record.

Yesterday Director Leslie sent word to Superintendent A. J. Pitcairn of the bureau of health to discharge McCullough from the sanitary police force. Prompt action was taken in this case.

Director Leslie has a report in the case of Eva May Brown ready for Controller John E. Larkin. The girl was arrested in the East End on the night of August 8 by Officer Peter Tams on a charge of street walking. The following morning Magistrate John H. Armstrong fined her. She then wrote to the controller, claiming to be innocent, and he asked Leslie for an explanation. Assistant Superintendent of Police W. P. Wilson made an investigation and yesterday reported to Leslie. He sets forth that on the night of September 21, 1901, the girl was arrested for the same offense. At that time she was sent to the county home and detained there until May 26, 1902. A number of police officers and others testify to the character of the girl.

for the night. The barricades were not enough to keep the men in or strangers out. "I'll have no drinking here tonight!" said he, as he called Thornton, a negro who has been with him for six years. Thornton supplied him with some 10 big negroes, whom he vouched for as being true under all circumstances, and they were stationed about the camp, with orders to allow nobody, black or white, to leave the camp.

Went Into Camp for the Night.

After the wall of "Fort Ramsey" had been extended from the barricade of ties to the end of the Atterbury factory on the First street line, so that it was impossible for an attack to be made at that point, a barricade known as "Fort Patterson" on the Henderson-Johnston line was strengthened at the end toward the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie tracks to make a flank attack difficult if such was attempted. Darkness was settling down upon the camp. The men hunted out soft spots or formed themselves into little groups.

There was no need to hunt for clean places. All of the men were wearing the clothing they wear in the shafts and tunnels, and it mattered little to any of them if they gathered up a little dirt of a different color. Some of the men crawled up into the wagons and others crawled under them. One slept comfortable as the other. Some secured pieces of wide boards to rest upon. There was one large group in the center of the two acres enclosed by the barricades. They had a fire in the center, and sat about it talking.

There was no loud talking and no excitement. The officer on the beat, who early in the night had cautioned Col. McAtee to keep his men away from some stables on the upper side of First street, for fear they might smoke and set the buildings on fire, came into camp and complimented Col. McAtee on his ability to handle men.

Hundreds of Sight Seers.

Hundreds of the residents of the lower portion of the South Side visited the seat of war last night. There was nothing for them to see at the foot of First street except the barricade and the Wabash forces behind it, but still they kept coming and going until late in the night.

Soon after the Vanderbilt forces had withdrawn, the supper call was sounded in the Wabash camp. A spring wagon loaded with soup, coffee and sandwiches rolled into camp and Clayton Williams of the Hotel Birmingham, who acted as sutler, served an appetizing meal.

At midnight all hands were again aroused for "grub." Coffee and sandwiches were served to all who came up for them. From the numbers assembled all must have left their resting places. After coffee came the "smokes." Here and there could be seen a face behind a match held between his hands, and the aroma of tobacco floated over the camp. Before it was gone all of the men had hunted up their old soft spots or found new ones. Arrangements were made to give the men a good breakfast this morning. The bosses recognize that the men cannot work without "feed," and they are giving them all they can eat. Lots of it keeps the men good-natured, too.

Talking Machines for the Home.

The Pittsburgh Phonograph Company has opened its new phonograph parlor at 308 Sixth avenue, near Trinity church, and just three doors above Wood street. This company is the successor of the Stieren Home and Commercial Phonograph Company, formerly at No. 406 Sixth avenue. It is the intention of this company to confine itself to the handling of talking machines exclusively. They will also carry a constant and complete stock of records and other supplies for phonographs and graphophones. Mr. J. L. Wagoner, an expert in talking machine instruments, is the general manager of the new company. Any one interested in "talking instruments" should not fail to visit this—the only exclusive phonograph parlor in this city.

LAWYERS PROBE INTO CAUSE OF THE POWER SUIT

SHARES ARE GIVEN AWAY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 15.—The hearing before Special Examiner Richard A. Mabie, in the suit of Peter Power against the Northern Pacific railroad directors to prevent them from turning over the stock of the company to the Northern Securities Company, was continued today. Little attention was paid to the Power suit, however, the most of the day being devoted to inquiry into the means whereby plaintiffs were provided in the similar actions against the Great Northern railroad, one of the constituent companies in the merger, which actions were based on the holdings of Mrs. Ellsworth Ives Chapman and Milton F. Bouden.

Replying to questions by Mr. Guthrie, counsel for the Northern Pacific, Camille Weidenfeld said that E. R. Thomas, broker, was at first adverse to the present litigation, but that he talked him into it. The witness had shortly before stated that he and Mr. Thomas had jointly purchased 400 shares of Northern Pacific stock.

"Did not Capt. Stern or Mr. Lamb tell you," Mr. Guthrie went on, "that Judge Lancaster had declined to go on with the case unless he was convinced that Peter Power was a bona fide stockholder?"

"I don't remember," was the reply.

Witness Could Not Answer.

"Did not Judge Lancaster send you word he would have nothing to do with the Great Northern suit if it was to be a 'strike?'"

"I understand he sent some message," said Mr. Weidenfeld.

Asked why he did not personally sue, the witness said that Lamb had told him he had a plaintiff. Witness' stock was sent out to the western meeting.

"Then why did you go to Mr. Thomas to procure a plaintiff instead of suing yourself if you had any grievance to redress?" queried Mr. Guthrie.

"I think Mr. Thomas had the stock. I really cannot answer the question," replied Mr. Weidenfeld.

To other questions Mr. Weidenfeld said he never heard Peter Power's name until after the suit was filed, and he first learned of the suit itself through the newspapers.

Milton F. Bouden, managing clerk for Thomas & Thomas, brokers, was called by Mr. Guthrie. He said that Mr. Thomas called him into his office one day last January and said:

"I have given you 400 shares of Great Northern Railroad Company stock, and a suit will be brought in your name."

Paid Nothing for Stock.

Continuing, in reply to questions by Mr. Guthrie, Mr. Bouden said the value of the stock was about $80,000, and that he still held it. He had not paid for it. He admitted that he was in consultation with counsel yesterday. Mr. Thomas, Bourke Cockran, Parkey G. Chandler, Tredwell Cleveland and Mr. Weidenfeld were present. He declined to state what was said there.

"How much stock do you own now?" asked Mr. Guthrie.

"Two hundred shares," was the reply.

"When did you take possession of them?"

"Today," said the witness.

"Is it not a fact that those shares were given you today that you might swear you owned the stock?" continued Mr. Guthrie.

"I took those shares from the safe because the subpoena served upon me called for their production here."

"Do you know what perjury is, and the penalty for perjury is?" pursued the questioner.

"I do," returned Mr. Bouden.

"What became of the other 200 shares?"

"They were sold. I noticed the stock was going down and told Mr. Thomas I would not be responsible for any loss. He said he would arrange about that and later told me that he had sold 200 shares. Mr. Weidenfeld bought them."

The money, he said, was placed to his account.

Never Saw His Attorney.

Mr. Bouden admitted some correspondence with Mr. Lamb on Northern Pacific affairs and produced a letter book. He said he understood that Mr. Lamb was his attorney. He had never met Lamb.

To other questions Mr. Bouden said he never saw the complaint filed in the suit and never authorized the action. He left all that to Mr. Thomas, who told him when he gave him the stock the that suit was to be brought. Mr. Thomas told him that Mr. Weidenfeld was interested in the suit.

In August, the witness continued, Mr. Thomas told him he had better get out of the litigation. He went to see Mr. Bulkley, one of the Western lawyers, and Bulkley told him to write to Mr. Lamb, asking him to withdraw.

E. R. Thomas, formerly of the brokerage firm of Thomas & Post, but now senior member of the firm of E. R. and C. F. Thomas, was the next witness.

"What did Mr. Weidenfeld say to you about this suit?" he was asked by Mr. Guthrie.

"He told me suits were being brought against the constituent companies to the Northern Pacific merger, and that Gov. Van Sant and Judge Lancaster advised some big Northern holder should be among the plaintiffs as a guarantee that the suit was for principle and not as a strike," came the reply.

"What did you say?" was the next question.

"Well, I told Mr. Weidenfeld that I owned 400 shares of the stock and if a principle was at stake I was willing to help him. I told him I did not desire my name mixed up in it and that I would make over the stock to Bouden, in whom I had full confidence. The suit was to decide the validity of the merger. I was interested as a broker in that question. Many people seemed to doubt the validity of the merger and I among others wanted it decided."

"Do you not consider it an unusual transaction to make a clerk a gift of so large a sum of money that he might masquerade as a plaintiff?" asked Mr. Guthrie.

"I do not. It is a common enough practice in Wall street," said Mr. Thomas.

ROBBERS WRECKED POSTOFFICE SAFE

THEY ESCAPED WITH MONEY AND STAMPS FROM OHIO TOWN.

Fired Upon Watchman and Drove Him to Retreat—Sheriff and Citizens Scour Columbiana County in Search of the Burglars.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

EAST PALESTINE, O., Aug. 15.—Robbers early this morning dynamited the safe of the postoffice here, secured between $500 and $600 and a similar amount in stamps and money orders. The police of the surrounding country have been notified and a description of the men is in the possession of all the authorities of the eastern part of the state.

At 3 o'clock this morning three men drove into town in an open buggy, drawn by a gray horse. They drove to the postoffice, on North Market street, and forced the door open. They drilled several holes in the safe and blew it open with a high explosive. The force of the explosion was so strong that a piece of the safe door was knocked through the side of the frame building.

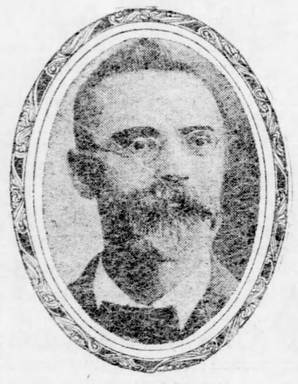
Sleeping in an adjoining building was William Crum. The noise of the explosion awakened him. He gave the alarm and went in pursuit of the robbers. They fired a few shots at him and he beat a hasty retreat. The robbery caused the most intense excitement. Many people were roused from sleep and saw the fleeing men. It is believed the robbers are professionals.

For nearly 20 hours Sheriff Leonard, his deputies and citizens have been scouring Columbiana county in search of the three men. The men drove away in their own rig. The rig and occupants were last seen at New Waterford, five miles from the scene of the robbery, about half an hour after the job had been performed. The robbers disappeared as if the earth had swallowed them up, but searching parties are still out.

BADE FAREWELL TO HIS CONGREGATION

Members of Central Christian Church Speed Rev. Thurgood on Trip to Antipodes.

Amid touching tributes of appreciation from his congregation and fellow clergymen, the Rev. C. L. Thurgood, pastor of the Central Christian church, last night took leave of his congregation, preparatory to sailing with his wife next week for his old home in Australia. A farewell program had been arranged for the occasion and the church was crowded.



The Rev. C. L. Thurgood.

R. S. Latimer, one of the oldest members of the church, acted as master of ceremonies. The Rev. E. E. Bosworth, pastor of the Homestead Christian church, the Rev. M. H. Wilson, pastor of the Christian church at Knoxville, and the Rev. Dr. W. J. Russell, pastor of the East End Christian church, made brief talks, referring to their association with the Rev. Thurgood in the most cordial manner.

The departments of work in the Central Christian church were represented by the following persons: Miss Ella Hazelwood, Young Ladies' circle; Miss Emma Horn, Junior Young Peoples' society of Christian Endeavor; Joseph Cessne, the regular Christian Endeavor society; Maj. W. F. Wilson, C. C. Hall and Phillip Grady, the Boys' brigade; Mrs. E. W. White, the Christian Woman's board of missions.

At the close of the addresses the Rev. Thurgood was presented with a well filled purse on behalf of the church. His remarks, in response to the farewells, touched a warm spot in his congregation, and not a few of his members were in tears. The gathering ended with a bountiful supply of refreshments.

The Rev. C. L. Thurgood has served as pastor of the Central Christian church 9 years and 9 months. During this time he has been absent from the pulpit only two Sabbaths, except when on vacation. In his ministry there have been added 720 members and nearly a dozen departments of church work have been organized, including a thriving mission on Herron Hill.

Although the Rev. Thurgood was born in London he claims Australia as his fatherland, having gone there when 3 years of age. He has spent 11 years in America. The chief object of his trip, however, will be the recovery of Mrs. Thurgood's health, which has been a source of anxiety for several months.

CASTRO HOLDS CITY.

Report That Revolutionists Have Taken Porto Cabello Is Denied—Error in Cablegram.

CARACAS, VENEZUELA, Aug. 15.—The report of the capture of Porto Cabello by the revolutionists is untrue.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The navy department is in considerable doubt as to the exact status of affairs at Porto Cabello, Venezuela. As originally deciphered, Commander Nicker's dispatch announced that there was no immediate danger of bombardment, and from this it was assumed that the revolutionists had obained possession of the town.

After studying the dispatch more closely today several navy department officials have come to the conclusion that the situation is practically as it has been, the Castro forces being in control of the city.

Expelled Sisters in France Petition Pope for Permission.

ROME, Aug. 15.—Members of the religious orders expelled from France, especially sisters, are applying to the vatican authorities for permission to settle in the United States. Several of them have come to Rome personally for the purpose of urging their requests.

A reply has been sent to them, pointing out that there are no vacancies in the United States, and, besides, calling attention to the difficulty arising from the fact that the expelled sisters do not speak the English language. Canada has been suggested as a better field.

HOMEWOOD MAN MAD AND SEEKS SATISFACTION

Jacob Kilian After the Scalp of Police Magistrate J. H. Armstrong.

CASE MAY GO TO COURT

Well-Known East End Merchant Suffered Indignities and Is Not Satisfied to Let the Matter Drop. Story of the Affair.

Jacob Kilian, a well-known citizen of the Homewood district, East End, a prominent member of the East End board of trade, is after the scalps of Police Magistrate John H. Armstrong and several police officers who report at No. 6 station, in Frankstown avenue. He wants satisfaction and says that in case he does not get it he will institute court proceedings. He went to Director Leslie with his story, and says he got no redress. He then called on Controller Larkin and got some advice as to the course to take to secure satisfaction. He left the office of the controller to go and talk with his attorney, and said he intended to take the matter to court.

Kilian is in business at No. 7241 Susquehanna street, Homewood. He has been in business for years. He is not in love with the methods of the machine and has consistently fought it whenever it was possible to do so. That fact, he thinks, is one reason why he could not get satisfaction when he went to the public safety building.

Cause of the Trouble.

Kilian has a small son who was amusing himself one evening by sitting in front of the place of business of a neighbor, with the neighbor's permission, while his father was attending a meeting of the East End board of trade. A patrolman passed the boy and scowled at him. The boy, after the policeman had passed by him several paces, left his seat, and started home, alarmed by the patrolman's looks.

When the officer saw the boy running away, he yelled at him to stop, but the youngster was now too frightened to do anything but run, and that he did to the top of his speed. The officer threw his mace at him, but it fell short.

Mr. Kilian was just returning home at the time. He asked the boy why he was running, and the frightened youngster protested that he had done nothing. The father thought the boy was misrepresenting the case, and asked the policeman what the trouble was.

"Shut up!" said the officer. "I'll run you in if you say another word."

Kilian said the other word, and the officer took him in charge. Kilian remonstrated. Then two other policemen came up and added their vituperation to that of the arresting officer. The patrol wagon was called and Kilian was thrown in and sent to No. 6 station. Kilian has money enough to buy the station house, so he put up a forfeit, although there was a disposition on the part of the police to prohibit that.

Magistrate Would Not Hear Witnesses.

He appeared the next morning for a hearing, and had witnesses with him to show that he had done nothing to warrant arrest, but Magistrate Armstrong refused to hear them. He gruffly fined Kilian $1 and costs, which Kilian paid.

Kilian is a phlegmatic German, and it was 10 days before he became real angry. Then he got mad in earnest. He went to the public safety building and made a vigorous protest, but he was received with little courtesy. He did, however, manage to file charges against the three policemen. He says that he has since been informed that these charges were investigated by the police board and that the three officers were discharged for the part they had in his unwarranted arrest.

At the public safety building, however, it is impossible to learn what disposition was made of these men or if they were ever tried. Now Kilian is after the scalp of the police magistrate.

Killed by Dynamite.

SCRANTON, PA., Aug. 15.—Frank Dietis of this city was instantly killed today by a dynamite explosion at the quarry of the Emanuel Stone Company. Six other men were injured and the condition of Santa Jona and Peter Manley is considered extremely serious. The latter is almost 70 years of age.

VISITORS HURRY TO PORTSMOUTH

KING EDWARD DECLARES TODAY CORONATION HOLIDAY.

Preparations for Naval Review Are Made and Ships Are Lighted Up—Great Crowds Pay to See Interior of Westminster Abbey.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Portsmouth is now filled up with visitors who have gone to witness the naval review tomorrow. Tonight the fleet was illuminated for a little while by way of rehearsal and fire works sent up from South Sea commons added to the picturesqueness of the scene.

Several more royal personages joined the royal party off Cowes this evening. Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and Mrs. Chamberlain, Earl Roberts and Lord Kitchener reached Southampton today and boarded the steamer Nigeria, upon which the Boer generalsH. DeWet, Delarey and Botha, will be welcomed upon their arrival from South Africa tomorrow.

By sanction of his majesty Portsmouth will observe tomorrow as a coronation holiday. Tonight the mayor of Portsmouth gave a garden party in Victoria park, at which the 2,000 guests included a number of British and foreign naval officers and the Japanese minister to Great Britain.

An investiture was held this afternoon on board the royal yacht at Cowes when 50 gentlemen received the coronation honors from his majesty's hand. Subsequently the party was conveyed to Portsmouth on board the naval yacht Osborne.

The plan of opening Westminster abbey to give the public an opportunity to view the coronation fittings is proving to be a much more troublesome task than had been imagined. Wednesday the admission fee was $1.25 and yesterday it was reduced to 60 cents. Great crowds inspected the building during these two days, but this morning the rate of admission was reduced to 12 cents and throngs past all calculations congregated long before the doors were opened.

By noon the line extended a mile to the westward of the abbey in closely packed ranks. A small army of police was called out to keep order. The people passed through the turnstiles at the rate of 2,500 an hour.

TWO MEN KILLED.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

TOOK HEADACHE POWDERS AND IS CRITICALLY ILL

Oakland Domestic Believed to Be Dying at Employer's Home.

THEY WERE FREE SAMPLES

Distributed Throughout Oakland and Sadie Pedley Took Some of Them. Physicians Have Small Hope of Saving Her Life.

Headache powders will probably cause the death of Miss Sadie Pedley, 20 years old, an Oakland domestic, who was poisoned late yesterday afternoon as a result of taking the powders to relieve a pain in her head. Miss Pedley has been a sufferer from severe attacks of headache for some years past and yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock took some powders in the hope of relieving the pain. Last night she was lying in a critical condition at the home of her employer, and the attending physicians had little hope of being able to save her life.

Miss Pedley was employed as a domestic at the home of J. Brennan, No. 3208 Elsinore square, Oakland, and recently had suffered more than usual from severe attacks of headache. Shortly after taking the powders she went to her room to lie down. She had not been upstairs long when Mrs. Brennan was attracted to the girl's room by hearing her groans. On reaching the room she discovered the girl lying on her bed writhing in convulsions, and hurriedly summoned Dr. George C. Johnston and Dr. Walker, who live in an adoining street.

After the physicians had worked with the girl for some hours they notified Mrs. Brennan that the girl had little chance to recover from the effects of the poison. Mrs. Brennan immediately sent a messenger to the St. Agnes Roman Catholic church, which the young woman attended, for a priest to administer the last rites of the church.

After the priest had given the girl spiritual aid she rallied sufficiently to tell those about her that her illness was caused by taking headache powders.

Miss Pedley said that yesterday free samples of headache powders were distributed in Elsinore square and that she had secured some of them. During the afternoon her headache became unbearable and she decided to try the powders. Shortly after reaching her room she was taken sick and before she had time to call for help was seized by convulsions.

The girl's illness soon became known throughout the district and caused considerable excitement, as the headache powders had been thrown about in the yards and on the porches of the houses throughout Oakland. Several of the packages were secured and will be analyzed.

It is said that they contain a dangerous quantity of morphine.

Another story was rumored about Oakland last night that the girl had attempted suicide through worry over the death of her lover, who was killed in one of the most sensational murders in the Soho district within recent years, for which a negro is now serving a life sentence in the penitentiary. This rumor was authoritatively denied last night.

LUTHER R. MARSH, NOTED ADVOCATE, LIVES TO BE 90

Death of Man Who Was Once Law Partner of Daniel Webster.

DUPED BY DISS DE BAR

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Middletown, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Luther R. Marsh, the noted spiritualist, once the law partner of Daniel Webster and for years one of the foremost jurists of New York state, died here this evening of old age, in his ninety-first year.

Mr. Marsh was born in 1813 in Pompey, N. Y. He was admitted to the bar when yet almost a youth and soon earned a reputation for handling successfully most difficult cases. His mastery of technical legal complications attracted the attention of the Erie Railroad Company, then the biggest corporation of its kind in the country, and he was engaged as its counsel. He went to New York city in 1841, and soon became known as an able advocate. Prominent law firms vied with each other to secure his advice as associate in famous cases.

Daniel Webster, on retiring from President Tyler's cabinet, entered his firm, styled Marsh & Sturtevant, where he remained until elected to the senate in 1845.

For 52 years Mr. Marsh held his place as a leader in the bar. He was for a long time president of the New York park commission, and was for several terms a vice president of the Union league, of which he was one of the founders.

In Mr. Marsh's home, in Fifth avenue, he frequently entertained the notorious Ann Oddfa Diss De Bar, who was sent to prison later for her part in the spiritualistic picture swindle by which he was deceived for years. He believed implicitly in her power.

In 1888 Mr. Marsh said his eyes were opened to Mme. Diss De Bar's character. He found many of her stories false, and that he had been deceived by the medium. He would not, however, discredit her ability as a medium, which he called the greatest the world had ever known. These disclosures and the ridicule that followed estranged him from friends of a lifetime, and he finally resolved to leave New York. He prepared to make his home on Lake Erie, and even sent on his household goods.

Among the many mediums who continued to visit his home after the imprisonment of Mme. Diss De Bar was Mrs. Clarissa Huyler of Middletown. He was invited to visit her home. He accepted, intending to remain only a few days, but never returned to New York nor continued his journey to his country home on Lake Erie.

BUTLER TAKES PRIZES IN FIREMEN'S RACES

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

JEANNETTE, PA., Aug. 15.—Most of the firemen have returned home and the crowd has dwindled down to only a few hundred. The features of the day were the races on Sixth avenue, a brick paved street.

There were six events: A hose race of 250 yards, 35 class, first prize $50, second $25; hose race, same distance, 40 class, same amount in prizes; ladder race, 200 yards, 20-foot ladder, 35 class, same amount of prize money; ladder race, 40 class, same conditions; hub-and-hub race, "open to the world," prizes $50 and $25 respectively for first and second; race of 200 yards, horses, 250 yards open to the world, $150 first prize and $25 second.

Following was the result: Hose, race, 35 class—Butler, running time 31 1-5 seconds, finish 38 2-5 seconds; Turtle Creek, running time 33 1-5 seconds, finish 38 2-5.

Hose race, 40 class—Turtle Creek, 33 2-5 seconds running time, 37 2-5 finish; McKees Rocks, 35 seconds running, 42 1-5 seconds finish; Avalon, 35 3-5 seconds running, 42 2-5 seconds finish; East Pittsburgh, 35 4-5 seconds running, 40 4-5 seconds finish; Evans City, 36 3-5 seconds running, 44 4-5 seconds finish.

Ladder race, 35 class—Homestead, 33 1-5 seconds; Whittaker, 33 3-5 seconds. The ladder race, 40 class, was the most exciting event of the day. Homestead and Whittaker running a dead heat in 35 seconds. The race was ordered on again and Homestead made its second run in 35 3-5 seconds. Whittaker took the second run and won in 34 1-5 seconds.

The next race was as interesting as it was exciting. It was the hub-to-hub race, two companies going over the course together. There were six entries: Butler, Turtle Creek, McKees Rocks, Avalon, Homestead and Whittaker. They paired in order named. Butler won first prize in 24 2-5 seconds and McKees Rocks second in 26 2-5. Homestead making the run in 27 2-5 seconds, winning from Avalon in a fraction of a second.

The last race, the big event of the day, free-for-all hose race at 250 yards and make coupling, and its big first prize of $150 brought three entries. They were Butler, Turtle Creek and Whittaker. Butler was looked upon as a 5 to 1 proposition to win by his backers and the result showed that they were not off in laying the big odds. Butler was the first to run and made it in the quick time of 36 2-5 seconds. Turtle Creek ran second and its time was 38 seconds flat, with a penalty of 1-5 second on account of an incomplete coupling. Whittaker was third, time 46 1-5 seconds. Butler thus swept everything clean and retains its record of champion racing team in Western Pennsylvania. The time made today in the events broke former records.

NEW CHIMES WILL RING OUT MERRILY

THE BLESSING OF THE BELLS WILL BE CELEBRATED TOMORROW.

Imposing Ceremonies Will Accompany the Event at the Second Greek Catholic Church on the South Side—Many Religious Societies Will March.

The ceremony of "the blessing of the bells" will be held in the Second Greek Catholic church in Carson, near South Seventh street, tomorrow morning, and the new chimes will ring their sweet music for the first time. Elaborate preparations are being made by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Father John Szabo, and his large congregation, to make the ceremony one of the most impressive ever held in Pittsburgh.

All the Greek Catholic societies of the county will be in attendance, and representatives of the church and affiliated societies from surrounding towns will take part.

The ceremony will take place at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The South Side societies of the church will form in Carson street and will march across the Twenty-second street bridge, where the parade will be met by the other Greek Catholic societies in the Second avenue district. At Fifth avenue and Smithfield street the Allegheny societies will form and the parade will then proceed to the church.

The out-of-town organizations will form in the rear as the Baltimore & Ohio and Lake Erie railroad stations are passed.

The service will be conducted by the Very Rev. Andrew Hodoboy, vicar general of the Greek Catholic church in the United States, assisted by the Rev. Julius Medvetzky and the Rev. Father John Szabo, pastor of the church. High mass will be sung by the Rev. Hodoboy, who will have as his assistants as deacon and sub-deacon the Revs. Alexis Hobosnyay of Homestead and the Rev. John Korotnoky of Allegheny.

At the close of the mass the bells will be blessed. The ceremony is similar to that in the Roman Catholic church. Hymns of praise are sung and the bells sprinkled with blessed water.

The Rev. Father Hodoboy, who is stationed at Scranton, will deliver a sermon in the old Slavonic language. He will be followed by the Rev. Julius Medretzky of McKeesport in the Magyar language. The Rev. Szabo will close the ceremony with an address in English.

In the afternoon a dinner will be given to the Rev. Father Szabo at his residence, No. 712 Carson street, by the leading members of his congregation, at which will be present all the visiting clergymen.

The church in Carson street was erected about 30 years ago and was first occupied by the Methodists. Later it passed into the hands of the Lithuanian Catholics. This congregation became so large in a few years that the church was unable to accommodate it. The congregation removed to Twenty-second and Sarah streets, where it erected a handsome place of worship. After the removal negotiations were opened by a committee of the Second Greek Catholic church for the purchase of the building.

The committee secured the church and parochial residence for $25,000 in April, 1901. The congregation numbers over 500 families. The membership is mostly composed of Slavs and Magyars. It is said to be the wealthiest church on the South Side. The three bells were placed in the tower yesterday. They will be rung as chimes. They were made in Baltimore and cost $1,800.

TWENTY-TWO EXAMINED.

That Was Number of Would-Be Policemen and Firemen.

Twenty-two men, eight of them negroes, applied at the public safety building yesterday for examination as to their fitness to enter the fire department or the police bureau. Nearly all the colored men were undersized. The applicants were examined by City Physician A. E. McCandless, who said last night that he had to tabulate the results before he could tell who the successful applicants were.

The men whom Dr. McCandless finds to be fit will go before the so-called civil service board for examination as to knowledge and intelligence. Since the era of prosperity began it has been difficult to secure enough men for police and fire bureaus, but in the last few months the difficulty has grown. The knowledge that if a policeman refuses to divide his salary with the machine he will be discharged and the fact that the force is demoralized act as deterrents to young men.

It is also said that when vacancies exist the director of the department asks for a larger list of eligible applicants than he needs and by a system of weeding out rejects those who may be suspected of unwillingness to take orders in a political sense. An eligible who has been "turned down" three times goes off the list and can never get on the force.

Shooter Sent to Jail.

Louis Romain, who shot John Eckard, a Braddock saloonkeeper, in the neck Thursday night, was yesterday committed to jail by Justice L. J. Holtzman to await the result of Eckard's injuries. He is charged with felonious assault and battery.

A ST. PATRICK WANTED IN MOON TOWNSHIP.

The farmers of Moon township are earnestly wishing that a St. Patrick would take up his abode in their district. For the past month the residents have been in continual terror because of the copperhead snakes which have infested that part of the county. A small boy employed on the Robert Speer farm, near Ewing's mill, was bitten on the hand yesterday while hunting for eggs in the hay mow. The usual remedies were applied and he will recover. The farmers say that they do not remember of any time when the reptiles were so numerous.

PLENTY OF ACTION AT FIFTH AVENUE BLAZE

Two Children Sensationally Rescued and Woman Jumped from Third Story Window.

There was plenty of action at a fire at No. 1322 Fifth avenue yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. A gasoline stove exploded, slightly burning one woman. A baby was rescued from the burning house by a man who ran up two flights through blinding smoke; a little girl was rescued by being passed from one window to another, and a woman fell from a third-story window. The loss by fire was slight.

The stove was in the apartments of the second floor of the building, occupied by Max Goldman. Mrs. Goldman was slightly burned about the hands. She ran screaming to the street, and the firemen were called. Before they got there all of the rest of the story happened. On the third floor was Mrs. Dennis Martin, her daughter Bertha, 8 years old, and her infant. She ran screaming to the front windows.

Charles Fox came when he heard the screaming woman, and when he was told that there were children with her, dashed up the front stairway. It seems a long time to the crowd, but when he appeared with the strangling baby, there was a loud and long shout. All the time Mrs. Martin was calling for aid, and was being advised by those below to wait until the firemen came.

Ben Resnick, who lives at No. 1324 went to his third story window and Bertha was passed over to him by her mother. Then came the question of getting Mrs. Martin over. Resnick could not reach her, so he got a short piece of rope to her. Trusting too much to the rope the woman swung out. She could not hold on, so dropped. She struck on the coping over the second floor window, and then dropped into the arms of a number of men who were there to receive her. She was practically uninjured.

All the firemen had to do was to put out a little fire in the apartments of Goldman, where the blaze started. Almost all of his goods were destroyed. The building is owned by J. B. Herron. The total loss by the fire is less than $1,000.

LIST OF DEATHS IN PHILIPPINES TO BE CABLED

PRESIDENT ACTS QUICKLY

Relatives of Soldiers Have Heretofore Waited Many Weeks for News from Seat of War—D. R. Francis Discusses Exposition.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 15.—The president today gave orders that hereafter the names of the enlisted men of the army who die in the Philippines be cabled to this country once in every two weeks. When the volunteer army was in the archipelago it was the custom to cable the casualties, but on the withdrawal of that army the practice was discontinued.

The subject was discussed while the president was entertaining a number of visitors at luncheon today. Among those who sat at his table were Maj.-Gens. H. C. Corbin and S. B. M. Young, Henry Loomis Nelson, the author; Jacob A. Riis of New York, Robert A. Morris, chairman of the New York county Republican committee, former governor David R. Francis of Missouri, president of the St. Louis Purchase Exposition Company; Henry M. Warren of Philadelphia, son of Bishop Warren of the Methodist church, and Congressman Mercer of Nebraska.

The subject of cabling the names of the dead soldiers was broached by Mr. Riis. He made the point that under the present system the relatives of enlisted men who die in the Philippines are kept in ignorance of this fact for eight or ten weeks, while the families of officers who succumb there are informed at once.

The president was greatly interested in the matter and as soon as it was explained to him he ordered Gen. Corbin to instruct Gen. Chaffee, at Manila to cable his full casualty list twice a month. While it costs on an average of $1 50 to cable news to this country of the death of an officer in the Philippines it costs about $30 for each enlisted man. This difference is due to the fact that the war department has code numbers for all its officers, while the names of the enlisted men, together with their company, regiment, etc., must be sent in full.

Former Gov. Francis discussed St. Louis exposition affairs with the president. He informed him that the dedicatory ceremonies would occur April 30 next, this being the 100th anniversary of the transfer of the ceded territory from the French government to the United States. President Roosevelt promised to attend these ceremonies, and further stated that he would have our representatives abroad instructed to use their best endeavors to induce foreign governments to have exhibits at the exposition.

The president instructed Gens. Corbin and Young, who sail tomorrow on the Fatherland for Germany, to become the guests of Emperor William during the maneuvers of the German army, to do all they could to further the interests in Germany of the exposition. The two army officers came today to pay their respects to the president before sailing.

Mr. Mercer discussed the political situation in the northwest and informed the president that his reception in Omaha next month would not be confined to one political party, but will be participated in by all citizens, irrespective of political affiliations.

Secretary of the Treasury Shaw was the president's guest at dinner tonight. He is en route to his summer home at Thompsons Point, Va. Bishop O'Gorman of Sioux Falls, S. D., who was in Rome during the progress of Gov. Taft's negotiations with the vatican regarding the friars' lands in the Philippines, will be the president's guest at dinner tomorrow night.

ASK FOR INJUNCTION.

Stockholders of Colorado Fuel & Iron Company Want Their Votes Counted.

DENVER, Aug. 15.—Application was filed in the United States circuit court today by John W. Gates, James Blair, John J. Mitchell and Arthur J. Singer against the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, John C. Osgood, John A. Kebler, Alfred C. Cass, Dennis Sullivan and David C. Beaman, for an injunction to restrain the defendants from preventing the plaintiffs from casting, counting and having considered the votes which they allege they are entitled to cast at the annual meeting of stockholders for the election of directors and officers of the corporation.

The complaint recites that of 259,178 shares of stock outstanding, the plaintiffs own and control by proxies 191,600 shares, giving them a clear majority, but it is feared that unless the court grants them protection they will not be allowed to cast their votes, because of conspiracy and collusion on the part of officers and other shareholders.

Subpoenas were issued commanding the officers of the company to appear in court and show cause why an injunction should not be granted, and a hearing may be held tomorrow before Judge Hall.

POLITICS BACK OF IT.

Contractor Walsh Said He Was Harassed by the Machine.

Back of the arrest of Ordinance Officer Robert Lindsay, on the charge of false pretense, brought by John E. Walsh, is an interesting story of an alleged attempt on the part of the machine to harass Walsh because he supported the Citizens ticket last spring.

Walsh charges that Lindsay in October, 1895, collected $82 35 due Walsh and failed to make an accounting.

Walsh is a contractor and has considerable political influence in the Fourteenth ward. He refused to help the machine last spring, as did his brother, Alderman W. F. Walsh of the Thirty-fifth ward. Since then, the contractor says, Lindsay has been harassing him and arresting his men for the slightest violations of city ordinances. He has retaliated by this suit.

SEVERELY INJURED FIVE TIMES WITHIN A YEAR.

Patrick Coyle of Rankin is unlucky. Five times within a year he has been sent to a hospital severely injured as the result of accidents. The fifth trip came yesterday, but it will probably be the last, as his injuries this time are expected to prove fatal.

Coyle is 40 years of age and lives [illegible] Baltimore street, Rankin. He was employed at the Carrie furnace plant of the Carnegie Steel Company, and while unloading a car of ore from [illegible] of the high trestles over the stock yards, slipped on the side of the car and fell headlong 40 feet.

When carried to the emergency hospital at the plant it was found he was suffering with a fractured skull, a broken nose and many other injuries about the head and body. He was sent to the Mercy hospital, and small hope is entertained for his recovery.

Coyle's previous accidents were all at the Carrie furnaces and he was never expected to recover from any of them. Besides having his arms, legs and jaw broken, he has been cut, bruised, scalded and burned.

THROUGH PARIS IN BRAKE DRAWN BY FIVE HORSES

Teachers from Western Pennsylvania Have Gay Trip on Famous Boulevards.

VISIT MADE TO LOUVRE

Only Time to View Some of Most Famous Pictures in Noted Art Gallery—Many Points of Interest Seen—Day Set Apart for Shopping.

By L. W. STRAYER.
Special Correspondence to The Gazette.

Paris, Aug. 2.—After a long day of bone-breaking and nerve-racking travel the teachers' European tourists of the Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph arrived in Paris last night. It was a hard journey, but we had a through carriage for our exclusive use from Berne to Paris, had our dinner served on the train and had all other conveniences to make the ride as comfortable as possible.

The journey from Interlaken was broken at Berne, the capital of Switzerland, where we changed cars and during a wait of two hours had luncheon and made an excursion to the bear pits. The bears were interesting, but we have as good an exhibit in the zoo at Highland park. However, a ramble through the streets of this quaint old town repays one well. There is the big tower clock, beneath the face of which each hour a number of figures move like automatums and an old Father Time reverses his hour-glass. There is also the statue of the "baby eater," a legendary character of local history, and many other things.

Not as Bad as Painted.

We stopped at a little town on the French frontier but a few minutes while our hand baggage was inspected. It was announced that the checked baggage would be passed by the customs officers on our arrival at Paris. We had heard so much about the French officials that we were expecting quite a struggle, but it was not half as bad as we expected. Some of it was opened, but the greater part was marked without question. After getting through the custom house we drove to the Hotel Malesherbes, where no time was lost in seeking the rest we all needed.

At 9:30 this morning the party started out to see Paris. A brake, drawn by five horses and carrying our entire party, was an excellent vantage ground from which to get a view of the city and the people as we drove along the streets. The Place de la Concorde, the Arch of Triumph, the president's place, Napoleon's tomb (which was closed) and other sights were pointed out by our guide, who then took us to the Louvre. Here we had only time to see some of the more famous paintings and sculpture, but everything was of interest. From here we went to the palais de justice, saw the famous building and watched the courts in session. Then the party returned to the hotel for luncheon.

Visit to Notre Dame.

In the afternoon the first place visited was the Pantheon, and from there we went to Notre Dame church. There was much to interest the teachers in both places, but the time was too limited for lengthy stays. We drove over the boulevards and returned to the hotel about 5 o'clock. Then several of the party went to Madelaine church, where some special services were being held by the bishop.

During these services a woman who sat near the Pittsburgh party fell to the floor. Prof. Anthony of Jeannette sprang to her assistance and found that she was suffering from an epileptic fit. With the assistance of others he had her removed to a place where restoratives could be administered. The incident caused considerable excitement, but did not interrupt the services.

Tomorrow morning we go to Versailles and on Monday the party is given the entire day for shopping. "Faust" is to be sung at the Grand opera house Monday evening and a number of the teachers have taken seats for it.

COMING TO JUBILEE.

Provincial and Many Passionist Priests on Way to Pittsburgh.

The Rev. Father Stephen, provincial of the Passionist order in the United States, will leave Dunkirk, N. Y., for Pittsburgh today, to be present at the consistory and the golden jubilee of the establishment of the Passionist priests in Pittsburgh, which will be held at St. Paul of the Cross monastery in Monastery avenue, South Side. The Rev. Father Christopher of St. Michael's German Catholic church, in Pius street, South Side, and the Rev. Albert Phelan, rector of the St. Mary's Passionist monastery at Dunkirk, will accompany the provincial to Pittsburgh.

The consistory at the South Side monastery will be attended by priests from many of the churches of which the Passionist priests have charge in this province. A new provincial will be elected, and the golden jubilee anniversary will call together one of the largest religious gatherings ever held in Pittsburgh. The Rev. Father John Bandanelli of Rome, chief counselor to the superior general of the Passionist order, will preside at the consistory.

No Merger Considered.

Former Judge James H. Reed, president of the Philadelphia Company, last night denied the report that there is to be a merger of his interest with the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company. He said: "There have been no propositions from either side. The report was probably put out by some one to influence stocks."

M'MILLAN BURIED AMID SIMPLICITY

DEAD SENATOR LAID TO REST WITHOUT DISPLAY.

Many Friends Attended the Funeral Service at the Statesman's Detroit Home—Congressional Delegation Present—Factories and Vessels Stood Still.

DETROIT, MICH., Aug. 15.—Extreme simplicity marked the funeral services this afternoon over Senator James McMillan, who died suddenly last Sunday at his summer home in Manchester, Mass. The services were as the dead man would have wished, without ostentation or display. It had been proposed that his thousands of employes should march in procession behind the hearse bearing his body to the tomb, that there should be a military escort and a public funeral commensurate with the senator's career. In obedience to the wish of the family, however, this was given up and the simplest of ceremonies held.

The services began at 2:30 o'clock at the senator's late residence, 515 Jefferson avenue. The large house was crowded to its utmost capacity and many persons were unable to gain admittance. Both branches of congress, the state legislature and all departments of the state and city government were represented at the services. Gov. A. T. Bliss was present with several of his staff.

The senatorial delegation included some of the most intimate friends of the dead senator. It was made up as follows: Senators Hanna, Foraker, Kean, McComas, Allison, Lodge, Burrows, Fairbanks, Cockrill and Gallinger. The District of Columbia, in which Senator McMillan was so deeply interested, was represented by District Commissioners McFarland and Biddle.

The congressional delegation and other distinguished visitors assembled at the Russel house at 1 o'clock and proceeded to the house in a body. The soft strains of Handel's "Largo" came from the musicians and a hush fell over the assembled friends as the service began. The Rev. Alfred H. Barr, long the senator's paster here, read the first few verses of Psalm 96 and the last few verses of First Corinthians, xv. Sweetly then the musicians played "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" to the music of "The Refuge."

After a moment's silence the Rev. Mr. Barr made a short prayer and the benediction ended the service. Tenderly the bearers raised the casket and carried it to the hearse. The interment was private. Followed only by the family and a very few intimate friends, the body was taken to Elmwood cemetery and placed in the McMillan mausoleum, which was filled with beautiful flowers.

As a mark of respect the car works here, which Senator McMillan built up and developed, were closed today, and in many other plants in which he was interested work stopped at the hour of the funeral for a brief time. Even on the lakes the hour was observed by the cessation of work. Every wheel on the Detroit and Cleveland and Detroit and Buffalo steamers stopped at 2:30 o'clock and did not move for 10 minutes.

MAY HAVE BEEN KILLED.

Two Well-to-Do Young Men of Wilmerding Missing Since August 2.

The police of both cities are searching for Paul Boiors, aged 34, and Martin Barnetoine, aged 32, who have been missing from their homes in Wilmerding since August 2. Their friends fear that they have been murdered.

Boiors was a transfer clerk for the Pennsylvania railroad at Pitcairn and his friend was employed in the airbrake works. The former has $400 on deposit in a Pitcairn bank and the latter has $700 to his credit in a Wilmerding institution. They have friends in Allegheny and visited them on the evening of August 2. All trace of them is lost after they left the North Side residence. When they left home they had about $20 between them.

RIVAL LOVERS FOUGHT A DUEL WITH KNIVES

As a Result John Bongon Is Now Lying at Point of Death.

BATTLED IN A DARK ROOM

Jealousy Over Pretty Rosa Savka Broke Out in Bloody Struggle. Other Duellist Is Now Confined in Homestead Jail.

In genuine old-world fashion Wessel Bochach and John Bongon, Austrian lovers of the same dark-eyed beauty, fought out their quarrel with knives late Thursday night. As a result Bongon lies at the point of death in his boarding house in Third avenue, Homestead, while his rival is in the Homestead lockup.

The trouble between the men, it is said by neighbors, has been brewing for a long time. They live in the same house and pretty Rosa Savka, the object of their joint affections, is a close neighbor. They frequently met under aggravating circumstances and the rivalry became very hot.

Bongon, it is said, was the more successful love-maker. As a result, Bochach has been in an ugly mood. On Thursday night there was a social gathering at the boarding house, both men and Rosa being present. Embittered by his rival's success Boachach challenged him to a duel and the gage of battle was instantly accepted.

After the guests departed, all present having been drinking, Bochach and Bongon repaired to a vacant room. Each man drew his knife. The light was extinguished and the duel began in the dark.

After a struggle of half an hour, Bochach emerged, cut and gashed, but with victory and satisfied revenge on his face, and after having his wounds dressed went to bed.

Bongon laid all night upon the floor with his lifeblood ebbing away. His rival was able to go to work in the Homestead steel mill as usual, while kindly neighbors summoned Dr. A. E. Ballagi to attend Bongon. He found the man almost dead from the loss of blood, and the matter was promptly reported to the police.

Detective Frank Bell arrested Bochach, who was unconcerned at the news that his rival would probably die. He refused to talk until late yesterday afternoon, when he asserted that the affair was an accident, and the deep gash in Bongon's side and back were inflicted with a beer bottle.

Last night there was little hope for Bongon's recovery, and the case will probably end in a murder trial. Meanwhile Rosa insists on nursing her injured lover, and swears vengeance on his assailant.

Chinese Authorities Take Reins of Government Amid Much Ceremony.

TIEN-TSIN, CHINA, Aug. 15.—The turning over the government of the city of Tien-tsin to the Chinese authorities was completed today with considerable ceremony. Yuan Shi Kai, viceroy of Pe Chi Li, arrived this morning and was received by a guard of honor of Chinese troops.

After meeting the foreign commanders in the city, the viceroy was given a luncheon as the guest of the city council and the employes of the council formally handed over the city's government. The day's proceedings closed with a banquet to Yuan Shi Kai.

JONES HAS NOT APPEARED.

Unhappy Bride Being Cared for by Her Mother-in-Law.

Charles E. Jones, the missing bridegroom, has not been found. Although the police received a telegram from Oil City Thursday night announcing that Jones would come to the city yesterday and claim his bride, he has not appeared.

Jones was married at Oil City Monday and sent his wife to Pittsburgh, saying he would follow on the next train. Mrs. Jones arrived at Union station Tuesday morning and waited 40 hours for her husband. She then appealed to the police. They cared for her until yesterday, when she went to the home of Jones' mother in East Pittsburgh.

GOD GAVE US FIVE SENSES

Seeing, Hearing, Smelling, Tasting and Feeling—Four of These Senses Are Often Impaired and Even Destroyed by Disease.

Doctors Byers and Tucker are daily brought in contact with many patients suffering from impairment of four of these senses from disease.

The nostrils filled with foul scabs and discharging sores, or stuffed up.

Restoring Diseased Eyes.

The ears affected with roaring, buzzing and hissing noises, and the hearing either greatly impaired or entirely destroyed.

The delicate senses of smell and taste also either impaired or entirely lost, the trouble often extending to the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs.

The patients, from their continued blowing, hawking and spitting, and emitting foul odors, become objects of misery to themselves and loathing to their more healthy friends and associates.

How can a parent see a child grow up with these senses impaired or destroyed and become an object of misery to itself and loathing to its comrades, when, by proper treatment at the proper time, all this could be prevented?

All these conditions are curable if patients only place themselves under the care of specialists who have the necessary facilities for treatment. Doctors Byers and Tucker have been treating these troubles over 14 years. They have attained a scientific mastery over these diseases. Their fees are the lowest in existence at which first-class treatment can be furnished.

CAR COMPANIES WILL NOT UNITE

STANDARD STEEL CAR INTERESTS REFUSE TO ENTER COMBINE.

A Big Deal Was on for Consolidating Rivals With American Car & Foundry Co., but Standard People Would Not Join.

The big deal for a consolidation of the American Car and Foundry Company of St. Louis and New York with the Pressed Steel Car Company of Pittsburgh has been dropped. The reason is the absolute refusal of the new Standard Steel Car Company to go into the deal. This is the more singular because the many reports of the proposed merger took no cognizance of the new independent interest, which will be ready for operations in a month or so.

The original scheme of consolidation grew out of the dissatisfaction of J. B. Haggin, the copper king, and Jacob Rubino, associated with him, both of whom represent a large ownership in both the American and the Pressed Steel Car Companies. The deal had not gone far when those interested came to realize that the new Standard Steel Car Company must be considered.

Most of the export department heads of the Pressed Steel Car Company, which was founded by the Schoens, have joined with President John M. Hansen to make the Standard Company a formidable proposition in an industrial way and that ahead of the actual start of operations.

The promoters of the combine took up the matter with the Standard people, and at first there was an absolute refusal to entertain any offer. Persistence of the promoters brought out propositions, but nothing developed that would satisfy the Standard people.

The American Company has a stock issue of $60,000,000, and the Pressed Steel Car Company $25,000,000, besides an issue of over $4,500,000 bonds. A basis for merger of these two companies was practically determined, but the live new interest stood in the way and the promoters finally decided that it was useless to go ahead with so important a competitor in the field.

The Standard Company has a capital which is ostensibly nothing like either of the others, but it is conceded to have business arranged for and executives at its head which make it one of the strongest industrial interests of its kind in the world. By entering the combination the Standard Company could have secured the dropping of suits against its officers now pending.

Arrangements are being made to secure for the Standard Company a force of high-class workmen, who will make its operations successful from the start. Agents have been working in the surrounding country during this week and have arranged for the employment of several hundred men. The company will possibly employ about 2,500. Many department foremen of the Pressed Steel Car Company have been drawn over for the new enterprise and these will be instrumental in manning the great new shops at Butler with some of the best labor of the old company.

Miss Annie Hoban, Post Pocahontas of Yemasse Council of Red Men (Women's Branch), writes from 872 Eighth ave., New York:

"Three months ago I was troubled with backache and a troublesome heaviness about the stomach. Sleep brought me no rest, for it was a restless sleep. The doctor said my nervous system was out of order, but his prescriptions didn't seem to relieve me. I was told that Peruna was good for building up the nervous system. After using it for two months I know now that it is. I want to say that it made a new woman of me. The torturing symptoms have all disappeared and I feel myself again. Peruna did me more good than all the other medicines I have taken."

Secretary Woman's State Federation

Mrs. Julia M. Brown, Secretary of the Woman's State Federation of California, writes from 1314½ Fifth St., Los Angeles, Cal., as follows:

"I have never known of any patent medicine which did what it professed to do except Peruna. This remedy does much more than it claims, and while I have never advocated any medicine, I feel that it is but justice to speak a good word for it because I have found it to be such a rare exception.

"I have known several women who were little better than physical wrecks, mothers who dragged out a miserable, painful existence, but were made well and strong through the use of Peruna. I have known of cases of chronic catarrh which were cured in a short time, when a dozen different remedies had been experimented with and without good results. I use it myself when I feel nervous and worn out, and I have always found that the results were most satisfactory."—JULIA M. BROWN.

HER GREAT FORTUNE.

A Woman Saved From Life-Long Misery and Made Happy and Useful.

A woman confined to the house for several years with a chronic female derangement had finally given up hope of being cured.

She had tried physician after physician, and remedy after remedy, without any permanent improvement.

Her treatment had cost her husband, who was a poor man, hundreds of dollars. They had been obliged to deny themselves many comforts of life in order to get money enough to pay the physicians.

Yet, in spite of all economy, there was a small mortgage on their property because of the expense her illness had brought upon them.

The woman had become weak, nervous and wretched, and scarcely able to keep out of her bed. Her children were growing up neglected and ragged, because of the want of a mother's care. Her husband was becoming discouraged and broken down with overwork.

Picking up the paper one day, she happened to read an item which contained the news that Dr. Hartman would treat such cases free of charge by letter. She immediately wrote the doctor describing her case, and giving him all her symptoms.

She soon received a letter telling her exactly what to do, and what medicines and appliances to get. She began the treatment (the principal remedy being Peruna) at once, and in a few weeks she was well and strong again, able to do her own work.

This offer of free home treatment to women is still open to all who may need the services of this eminent physician. All letters applying for treatment will be promptly answered, and be held strictly confidential.

Miss J. Newlove, 25 Rowley Street, Rochester, N. Y., writes:

"I suffered with systemic catarrh, had such a tired feeling, faint spells, pain in the back of my head and over my eyes, got so I could hardly see. I was getting very nervous, so that my hands trembled. I was chilly nearly all the time. During the months I doctored I lost 40 pounds, so I thought I would have to try something else. Peruna was recommended to me by a friend, and I gave it a trial. Now I feel better than I have for years—do not think I could feel any better."

MISS J. NEWLOVE.

Miss Estella Richardson, 48 Straight street, Grand Rapids, Mich., writes:

"I have been troubled, as most women are, with irregularities and pains at my menstrual period, and a friend advised me to try Peruna, and so I did. This seemed to relieve the pain and I kept on taking it until now I am well and strong, have no pains whatever and feel like a new woman, and am gaining in flesh and strength."

MISS ESTELLA RICHARDSON.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Mr. Abercrombie is preparing a novel experiment with the kite, but he refuses to make it public until after the test.

The new borough has been formed out of a portion of Chartiers township. The first election promises to be a lively one, as many of the residents are inclined to dispute the leadership of County Recorder George von Bonahorst, who is a resident of the borough. AMENDMENTS MADE TO ELEVATED TRACK PLAN

Proposition Made by West Penn Road to Allegheny Undergoes Revision by Committee.

The committee on grade crossings of Allegheny councils met last night to consider the ordinance for the elevation of the West Penn railroad tracks from a point 200 feet east of Bridge street, to the easterly side of Federal street.

A large number of manufacturers and private property owners who will be affected by the proposed elevation attended the meeting to protest against the closing of McFadden street.

The ordinance stipulates that the tracks be elevated 8.1 of a foot at Bridge street; 7 feet at McFadden street, and that McFadden street be vacated and the damage caused to property owners by reason of the closing be paid by the city; 12 feet at Pine street; 12 feet at Chestnut street; 12.4 feet at Madison avenue, and the same grade down to Federal street.

The protestants objected strongly to the closing of McFadden street, stating that it would leave no cross street from East Ohio street to Riva avenue, from Bridge street to Pine street, a distance of 3,500 feet, or nearly 7.1 of a mile.

Amendments to the effect that the retaining wall along East Ohio street, and the railroad tracks be raised three feet and a railing five feet high be placed on top of it; that the archways at Sandusky, Anderson and Chestnut streets, and Madison avenue, be lined with white enameled brick at the company's expense and maintenance, and that the company pay the damages for the closing of McFadden street, were adopted.

The ordinance as amended was then laid over until the next meeting of the committee, which will be held on the grounds.

The plans for the elevation of the tracks show 10 tracks at Sandusky street, 6 on the West Penn and 4 on the Fort Wayne lines. They also show space for a depot on the east side of Federal street.

WELL KNOWN MAN WAS RUN OVER BY TRAIN

John Henry of Glendale Is in Critical Condition as Result of Accident.

John Henry, a well-known and wealthy resident of Glendale, is lying at the Mercy hospital in a critical condition, as the result of an accident sustained at the Fourth avenue station of the Panhandle railroad last evening.

Mr. Henry came to the city from his home, on the train reaching here at 9:30. As he alighted from the car platform, while the train was slowing up, his foot slipped and he fell beneath the cars. The wheels passed over his left arm, near the shoulder, almost cutting it off.

A call was immediately sent in to the Mercy hospital for an ambulance, but before it reached the station, Mr. Henry had lost much blood. On his arrival at the hospital, an operation was found necessary, and the arm was amputated, close to the shoulder.

As he is 56 years old, and suffered a great loss of blood before surgical aid could reach him, the hospital physicians fear that the accident may result fatally.

Immediately after the accident, his wife was summoned to the city by telephone, and is at his beside in the hospital.

John Henry is one of the best known iron and steel men about Pittsburgh. He was for many years manager of the old Chartiers sheet steel mill at Carnegie. He retired about the time the mill was absorbed by the United States Steel Corporation. The mill has since been dismantled and abandoned.

TWO PROCLAMATIONS ARE ISSUED IN CHINA

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 15.—The state department has received two interesting proclamations, one an imperial edict issued from the throne, concerning the raising of the war indemnity, and the other by Gov. Yuan, viceroy of Chi-li, ordering the people to stop carrying weapons and to guard against a repetition of the Boxer trouble. The imperial edict discloses that China is seeking to devise a plan for meeting the war indemnity, and is fearful that the heavy tax on the people will oppress them to further disorder. The edict also accuses the Chinese officials of "filling their own pockets" with the sums taken from the people.

"There must be no oppression, nor irritation of the people," says the edict. "The throne has pity for the people, and does not forget them, awake or asleep; and as a special reminder we command the viceroys and governors to do away with whatever may cause too much friction in their plans for raising the indemnity."

Gov. Yuan, who issues the proclamation against carrying weapons, was the military governor who sought to cope with the Boxer uprising. His present proclamation sounds much like those he issued warning the Boxers to remain quiet.

M'CANDLESS IS FOR WIDENING VIRGIN ALLEY

STEP IN RIGHT DIRECTION

The Improvement, at Once, of Part Between Wood and Smithfield Streets Is Favored—Action on Part of City Will Be Rushed.

Director J. Guy McCandless of the department of public works thoroughly indorses the movement looking toward the opening and widening of Virgin alley between Wood and Smithfield streets. The director came home from Canada yesterday morning after two weeks' absence, and when informed of what was being done in the matter expressed his pleasure and approval. He hopes to see the resolution directing the city recorder to sign the petition for the improvement adopted by both branches of councils.

"I am glad to see the movement for the opening and widening of this thoroughfare take some tangible form," said Director McCandless yesterday. "The congestion of Pittsburgh streets is something that ought to be remedied as fast as possible, and this will be one of the best ways in which to do it. I was not aware until my return to the office that anything had been done in the matter, but I am pleased to hear that such a resolution has been presented in councils.

Favors Improvement.

"I am in favor of any movement that will make Pittsburgh a better business city. I think that Virgin alley ought to be widened for its entire length. I do not know what view the property owners throughout its length take of the proposition, but I think it a good one.

"While I think the question of widening the entire thoroughfare ought to be taken up, the proposition to open and widen between Smithfield and Wood streets is a step in the right direction. If we cannot improve the entire thoroughfare at once it is better to take it up piecemeal than not have the improvement made at all. I had not given the question of opening this thoroughfare a great deal of thought because there have been so many other matters to look after, but I can see where it would be a great improvement.

"The work ought of course to be done, or at least decided upon before H. W. Oliver constructs his large buildings at the corner of Virgin and Smithfield and Virgin and Wood. The buildings will no doubt be very expensive, and if they are erected before the work is done the damages that would have to be paid him would be so great that it would not be possible to do the work at all.

No Time Like Present.

"It will not take any longer to decide upon that now than it will to do it later, and there is no time like the present.

"When Diamond street is widened and Virgin alley is completed there will be with Fifth avenue three thoroughfares paralleling each other where now there is only the one. I often notice that Virgin alley is filled with wagons so as to make it almost impassable, and that is a condition that ought not be exist for a minute. Pittsburgh has too great a future as a business city to allow any paltry improvements to stand in the way. I stand ready at any time to assist in this improvement of Virgin alley between Wood and Smithfield or throughout the entire length if the property owners want it done. Whatever the people want the city government ought to give them."

A majority of the property owners on Virgin alley between Wood and Smithfield have signed the petition for the improvement and when Recorder J. O. Brown signs for the 120 feet which the city owns along the alley the widening will be assured.

Quick Action Probable.

Common Councilman Thomas M. Brown at the meeting of common council presented a resolution directing the city recorder to sign such a petition in behalf of the city. This resolution went to the committee on public works, and will be reported out at the next meeting of the common branch, which will likely be held on the first Monday evening of September. The regular meeting of the branch does not come until the second Monday evening of the month, but this special meeting will be for the purpose of furnishing business for select council, which will meet in regular session on the afternoon of the second Monday of September.

No opposition has developed among members of councils to the idea. The Citizens members are pledged to measures that will relieve congestion in the city of Pittsburgh. No member of select council has as yet found any objections to the resolution, although few of them care to discuss it until it is regularly before them.

A Sewickley Party.

A pretty little party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hutchison on Hill street, Sewickley, last evening. The affair was in honor of their daughter, Miss Edith Hutchinson, about 30 young people being present.

SUSPICION

Leads to the Real Cause.

The question of coffee disease or Postum health becomes of the greatest importance when we are thrown on our own resources. Many a woman when suddenly left without means of support can make a comfortable living if health remains.

A brave little woman out in Barnes, Kansas, says: "I feel that I owe you a letter for the good Postum Coffee has done me. For years I was a great sufferer with nervousness without ever suspecting the cause. Two years ago I came down with nervous prostration. My work was light, but I could not do it, I could not even sew or read.

"My sleep was broken and unrefreshing, I suffered intensely and it seemed only a matter of time till I must lose my reason.

"My mental distress was as great as my physical, when one day a friend brought me a trial of Postum Coffee and urged me to use it instead of coffee for a few days, saying that Postum had cured her of liver trouble and sick headaches. I replied that I thought I could not give up coffee, I had always used it as a stimulant, however the Postum Food Coffee proved to be pleasing to the taste and I used it and was surprised to see that I was resting and getting better.

"My husband bought several packages and insisted on me using it altogether. Gradually, but not the less surely, I fully recovered. I never used coffee afterward and when I was left a widow a year later I was able to open a dressmaking shop and support myself and little girls." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

AFTER TWELVE YEARS.

Mrs. F. A. Burns Resigns as Matron of County Jail. Co-workers Make Parting Gift.

Mrs. F. A. Burns, for 12 years matron at the county jail, has tendered her resignation to take effect on September 1, but as she leaves today on her vacation, her connection with the institution has ceased.

Yesterday at noon she gave a dinner to the employes of the jail, in her apartments there, and as a token of the esteem in which she is held by her co-workers, she was presented with a beautiful silver tea service.

The presentation was made by Dr. A. V. Chessrown, the jail physician, just before the party was seated at the table. It was a complete surprise to Mrs. Burns, and she could scarcely find words to express her thanks.

TWELVE PAGES.

The Final Resort.

A feature of the Third avenue shooting case is that the trouble originated in a notorious resort tolerated by the police bureau. The place has been more than once exposed in the public prints, but nothing has been done toward suppressing it. Possibly it may now be looked after since it has been brought so vividly to public attention by the crime of an employe of the bureau of health.

It is hardly to be expected, however, that general reform will be effected in the police administration until the administration is changed. It is practically out of the question to have efficient service from a department in which every employe understands that his first duty is to a political machine and that some persons must be permitted to violate the laws with impunity. It is the natural sequence of such a system that innocent people should be put under arrest while many of the guilty escape.

Under normal conditions criticism of police methods should be indulged sparingly. Even errors of judgment may be better condoned than to take the chance of interfering with effective policing. But existing conditions in Pittsburgh are abnormal. Vice is deliberately protected in some quarters while in others there are attempts to prove police activity by arresting persons who have done no wrong. Radical reform is necessary. If it cannot be brought about under the present administration, it will have to be done at the next city election by installing a new administration that will hold public safety, peace and order paramount to all other considerations.

Significant Edicts.

Two Chinese proclamations just made public at Washington are significant. First they indicate that the indemnity imposed by the powers is all that China can bear—possibly more. They also prove a sincere desire to avoid a repetition of the "Boxer" outbreak and an awakening to the greatest evil of Chinese administration—the appropriation of public funds for private enrichment. It has long been notorious that Chinese officialdom absorbed a material share of all public revenues. Administrators and collectors in that ancient empire deemed it unnecessary to cover their operations by devices such as obtaining interest from depositories. They have simply abstracted from funds passing through their hands whatever portion their cupidity or needs dictated. The royal edict makes it plain that such impositions will not be regarded with favor in the future, at least not while the people are overburdened by the tax imposed by the foreign powers.

Democratic Capital In Trusts.

As Lewis Nixon, chairman of the finance committee of the Democratic congressional committee, is at the head of the new shipbuilding combination, the fact is likely to cause some annoyance to Democratic orators who wish to pretend that no effective trust-busting can be done except by the Democratic party. Although many eminent Democratic financiers are deeply interested financially in quite a number of combines, the spellbinders and editorial writers of the party are doing their best to persuade the people that if trusts are to be smashed, the contract must be handed over to the Democratic party.

There is no perceptible difference between the industrial combinations formed and conducted by Democrats and those set going by Republicans. Capital appears to be non-partisan when it seeks employment, and in this it greatly resembles labor. Mr. Nixon's shipbuilding trust represents quite a plutocratic lot of money. Indeed, $45,000,000 might be described as octopustic to a high degree, to use the nomenclature of the professional trust-buster. Mr. Nixon himself says:

> Our desire is to put American shipbuilding establishments upon such a basis that we can build foreign ships here. The United States Shipbuilding Company can now make proposals for a complete vessel, armor, guns, forgings, machinery and hulls. No other plant, either at home or abroad, can do this, although some do produce ships and guns. The company is today building the largest cargo-carrying steamers in the world, and has a fleet in course of construction of the value of $37,000,000, and the total contracts in hand aggregate $50,000,000.

This seems like a praiseworthy proposition. Many other industrial combinations are equally praiseworthy in their intent, and some are conducted with the publicity that inspires confidence. There are evils in the trusts to be remedied, but in order to remedy evils it is not necessary to destroy the large amount of good in them. Still less is it necessary to turn the task of regulating the trusts over to the Democratic party. The work can be done far more satisfactorily by the Republicans.

The Business Situation.

During the past week official data came to hand relating to various departments of finance and trade from which it is possible to draw conclusions as to the present business situation and future prospects. First and foremost was the government crop report. It showed the condition of wheat, corn, oats, apples and potatoes to be higher than the 10-year average at this season. The indicated yield of corn is the largest on record, and as this crop is now practically made in the greater part of the surplus-producing territory, all apprehension on this point has been removed. The report of the government has since been supplemented by the agricultural departments of various states, and these show still further improvement since the government figures were compiled. Agricultural prosperity is at the basis of general trade prosperity, and the latter now seems assured for another year.

The preliminary figures relating to our foreign trade for July are not so favorable. The exports of domestic products were the smallest in amount and value for any month in several years past. The falling off was due to smaller shipments of breadstuffs and cotton. Last year's failure of the corn crop, the shortage in cotton, and the unusually high price of provisions, all had their effect in curtailing foreign consumption of our products. For the seven months of the calendar year the falling off in the value of our exports of these commodities amounted to more than $100,000,000. However, the present outlook is for a restoration to a normal volume of business. During the past week, for instance, our exports of wheat and flour amounted to 4,592,000 bushels, the largest total for any week for more than three months.

The monthly furnace report of pig iron production was also less favorable in that it showed a decrease in the capacity of furnaces in blast of 14,425 tons a week, compared with July. The output, however, is 47,043 tons a week above that for the corresponding period last year. In other departments of the iron trade there is a repetition of the reports of large orders placed for next year's delivery and steady prices.

Yesterday the rate for call loans in the New York money market advanced to 6 per cent, and time loans were firm. At this season of the year the money question becomes paramount in Wall street. While the volume of our circulating medium is larger than ever before, and of better quality, it is not large enough to permit of active "bull" speculation and active movement of the crops at one and the same time. The loans of the New York banks are $28,000,000 in excess of the total reported at the corresponding date last year, and the surplus reserve is smaller than for many years at this season. Cotton and wheat have begun to move to market, and money is in demand for the operation. Money is also in active demand by merchants and manufacturers, and the stock market operator must either wait or pay the relatively high rates which the situation enables the lender to exact. The summary of the comptroller of the currency covering the reports of 4,535 national banks in the United States shows that the percentage of reserve held at the date of the last report, July 16, was 27.35 per cent, as compared with 28.01 per cent a year ago. The national banking law has set 15 per cent for country banks and 25 per cent for reserve city banks as a conservative reserve to be held for use in emergencies. The comptroller's report shows the average held by all the banks is considerably above the requirement, and it is not likely any serious stringency will be felt outside the stock exchange. At all events, the stringency will not be the result of fear of the currency or doubt as to the credit of the borrower, but will be due, if it occurs, to the demands of legitimate business activity.

A Silly Story Contradicted.

The first campaign story to receive much attention is the report of a Washington correspondent that the president had suppressed the Republican text book and intended to revise it before permitting its circulation. The helpful New York Evening Post, always on the lookout to say something disagreeable about the Republican party, makes the report the leading topic of editorial discussion, accepting it as true, and commiserating the party on the possession of "a literary president, with a sense for style." It grows ponderously humorous over it, quotes Disraeli's saying that "a literary man who is a man of action is a two-edged weapon," and adds that "probably Chairman Babcock and his associates were never before so vigorously blue-pencilled."

While the Post was thus making merry over the supposititious failure to satisfy President Roosevelt's editorial ideals, the secretary of the Republican congressional committee, Representative Overstreet, was declaring the report to be false. Mr. Overstreet is doubtless thoroughly acquainted with the facts, and he will be believed when he says the only text book that will be published is the one now in print. A Washington reporter who called at the campaign literature headquarters found the committee's employes busily engaged in packing and sending away the books that were said to have been suppressed, and was informed that if any desire existed in any quarter to revise the volume it was too late. While this writer was there an edition de luxe was being wrapped to be sent to the president.

Whether the originator of the silly report wished to represent the compilers of the Republican text book as afraid to express opinions on topics of public interest, or whether he wished to make it appear that Mr. Roosevelt was meddling with the campaign committee's business, it was a silly story to set going.

May Defy Public Sentiment.

It is said that if President Roosevelt calls an extra session of the senate to ratify a reciprocal treaty with Cuba the opposition will be led by Senator Julius Caesar Burrows of Michigan. Senator Burrows was active in obstructing the reciprocity bill during the recent session of congress. He is probably unregenerate. But before another opportunity is given for Burrows or any other senator to oppose this measure of justice to Cuba again, the people will have spoken upon the subject in unmistakable terms.

It is fortunate for Julius Caesar Burrows that he is not, just now, a candidate for re-election. The Republicans of Michigan dropped the representatives in the house about a month ago. It was deemed necessary at the time to explain that this was not done on account of their attitude toward Cuban reciprocity, though the elaborate explanations were none too convincing. Then in spite of Senator Burrows' efforts to the contrary the Republicans of Michigan adopted a platform that, while it favored protection to beet sugar, expressed the opinion that Cuba should be favored.

Senator Julius Caesar Burrows may lead an opposition to reciprocity, but he is not likely to have much of a following. Upon no question discussed during the long session of the existing congress has there been such unanimous and emphatic expression of popular opinion as upon that measure of relief for Cuba. And when Mr. Burrows and his fellow conspirators find it necessary to again ask favors of the public their records will not be forgotten.

Automobile Dangers.

"Automobiling" is far from being an exact science. The dangers that hedge about this popular pastime are being given fresh illustration every day, the latest being the terrible tragedy which resulted in the death of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fair near Paris on Thursday. The accident was in itself a simple affair to begin with, and one likely to occur at almost any time in the course of ordinary automobile travel. The tire of one of the front wheels is said to have exploded. Moving at moderate speed this accident should have produced nothing more serious than a severe shock to the occupants or at worst a spill with consequent bruises. But to the fact that the vehicle was going at high speed must be set down the frightful results.

There is excitement and exhilaration about all competitive efforts that leads to the desire to break speed records with automobiles. But with so many of the possibilities of the various forms of motor car practically untried the reckless use of the vehicle as a means of speedy locomotion is hazardous. This disaster may have the effect to discourage too fast running.

President Roosevelt's order that names of American soldiers, who die in the Philippines, be sent again by cable is a thoughtful kindness to those who are most interested. Some most distressing situations have resulted from the delays and uncertainties of the mails. Uncle Sam can well afford the tolls, and friends of the soldier boys are entitled to prompt information.

President Castro is respectfully cautioned against making any mistake about the leaving time of the boats bound northward during the next few days. The information may come in handy.

Undelivered letters in England last year contained $3,375,000. Britain needs to educate its people who write letters and to adopt a better "dead letter" system. There is no such total in this country.

As the punishment in China for misappropriation of funds is the sword, the edict against officials pocketing public money may have some force.

The Danish tirpsdag has not yet come around to the point of giving us a clear deed to that bunch of islands in the West Indies.

Prof. E. Benjamin Andrews says everybody ought to get married. In Chicago getting unmarried seems to be more popular.

LIFE SAVERS CANNOT SWIM

Deaf and Dumb Man Also Among Those Employed by Hotels to Watch Bathers.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Aug. 15.

It is seriously declared that some of the "life-savers" along the beach at Coney Island, Brighton and other seashore resorts in Greater New York actually cannot swim. Coroner Flaherty is responsible for this assertion. He particularizes a man employed as a "life-saver" by a large hotel who cannot swim a stroke, and who is dressed in the uniform of a "saver" as a bluff, to give confidence to the hotel guests. Another "life-saver" is said to be deaf and dumb. Many others are charged with keeping too far away from the water's edge to be of any use, their chief amusement being the ogling of women and posing as heroes. Two young men were drowned at Coney Island yesterday, and it is believed they might have been saved had the men who are paid to protect the lives of bathers attended to their duty. This scandal about "life-savers" has been brewing for some weeks and the drowning of the two young men yesterday brought it to a climax. While there is no reason for any bather to be drowned so long as he keeps well within the safety ropes, there will always be venturesome individuals to go beyond them, with the occasional consequence of their getting into distress. For these persons "life-savers" are supposed to be on the lookout. The coroner and one of the assistant district attorneys are investigating the alleged carelessness of the "savers" and it is possible that there will be a reform. In New Jersey there is a law for the licensing of bath houses, compelling the keepers to look closely after the safety of patrons. Probably there will be a bill to this effect introduced at Albany this fall. Many thousands of persons bathe at resorts within the limits of Greater New York every summer, and the question of safety is one not to be ignored. It has been supposed, in a general way, that the men who wear the uniform of "life-savers" are vigilant. Now that it is charged they are not they will get a jolt that may remind them of their important duty.

Homeless Woman With Baby.

An incident of metropolitan life was the arrest last night of a young woman with a two-months-old babe in her arms, wandering aimlessly about the streets. She said today that she had no home and a magistrate sent her and the infant to the workhouse for six months. Sad though the case was, it was not unusual enough in New York to provoke more than passing comment.

Uncalled For Arrests in New York.

In one of the fashionable apartment hotels of Broadway this forenoon there was a little excitement of an uncommon character. A handsome, well-dressed young woman, employed as a stenographer, was rudely arrested by a detective as she sat at her machine in the public lobby, while a very angry man loudly declared that she was a thief. New York hotel habitues are not easily surprised by anything, but there was a decided tremor of astonishment as the bewildered young woman was marched away to the Tenderloin station. Her pedigree was taken there and then she was hauled to the Jefferson Market police court, where Magistrate Cornell was sitting. It did not take him more than a minute or two to decide that there was no case against the prisoner, and to tell the complainant, the angry man aforesaid, that he had laid himself open to a suit for false imprisonment, with heavy damages. The stenographer dried her eyes and went back to work, while the angry man looked as if he wondered whom the joke was on.

New Addition to Pittsburgh Business.

A. T. Pratt, who represented the Diamond Match Company in this city, has just removed to Pittsburgh, to become the general agent of the company in the Pittsburgh district. That territory hitherto has been under the jurisdiction of the Chicago office, but lately it was determined that it should be conducted separately and Mr. Pratt was picked out as the right man for this responsible position. He and Mrs. Pratt intend to live in Wilkinsburg, I understand.

An Epidemic of Insanity.

The startling statement is made that a wave of insanity is sweeping over New York city. In the last three days 32 patients have been admitted to the pavilion for the insane at Bellevue hospital, and of these 21 are women. The usual daily average is less than three. Almost every case has been violent and a majority of them, on the authority of Dr. Tucker, the physician in charge, are incurable. Doctors cannot understand why there should be more insanity now than in other years at this season, because the weather has been cool, and there are no general predisposing causes of mental aberration in evidence. A peculiar feature of the present condition is that the number of women patients should be twice that of men. Ordinarily the proportion of the sexes is about equal. The old story that people in big cities live so rapidly that their brains give way has little bearing on the extraordinary increase in insane patients, because life certainly has not been faster this month than in any other month of the year.

"L" Firemen Not Mollified.

It appears that the labor trouble on the "L" is not yet over. The firemen are said to be dissatisfied with the agreement made between the grievance committee and the Manhattan company because they feel that the interests of the firemen were not properly considered when the arrangement was made. Therefore they refuse to ratify the agreement. The new regulations do not go into effect until September 15, a month hence, so that there is plenty of time for the firemen to get their troubles adjusted. They will hold another meeting a fortnight hence.

Neglecting the Fireproofing.

Skyscrapers above the height of 12 stories, or 150 feet, in New York must be guaranteed to be fireproof. Sworn allegations have been made to the corporation counsel that this requirement has not been met in the case of several tall edifices in this city that are building or have been completed. As one of the buildings referred to is a palatial hotel, it can be seen that this is an important question, which may affect Pittsburghers as much as any class.

Pheasants for Central Park Zoo.

Central park menagerie was enriched today by a collection of fancy pheasants of various species. They come from the plantation of E. H. Lee, a cotton broker of Raleigh, N. C., who sold them to this city in a lot for $200. They are worth much more, but Mr. Lee was particularly anxious that they should obtain a good home, and considered that he could not do better, with that end in view, than to send them to Central park. There are 24 birds. There were 18 in the batch that arrived today, and the others are expected in a few days. Those which arrived include one Lady Amherst, two Swinehoes, three Reeves, four golden necks and eight silver pheasants. The Swinehoes are the most valuable. Collectors ask about $80 a pair for them. The Lady Amherst pheasants command $50 a pair and the golden necks about $35 a pair. Their long tail feathers attracted much attention when they were put in the inclosure, and there was a crowd about the cage all day.

Latimer's Brother Loses Election.

William C. Latimer, brother of Albert C. Latimer, who was murdered in his home in Brooklyn last month, was a candidate at an election held last night for the office of collector of Dewitt Clinton council, Royal Arcanum, but was defeated by William E. Houlahn, a cigar dealer in the Bedford section. Since Albert Latimer's death William Latimer has been filling temporarily the office of collector which his brother held for several years. It was supposed that he would be elected to succeed his murdered brother. Although relatives of the deceased are still following supposed clues in the hope of finding out who really did kill him, the police have made up their minds that it was a burglar that committed the deed, and their suspicions are not directed toward any of the other persons whose names were brought into the case at the coroner's inquest.

No Grumbling On Pay Day.

Summer schools are a recognized institution in New York, and have been entirely successful, from an educational point of view. The only question has been whether it was a fair thing to make the teachers work through their vacation period, when they might rather be at the seashore, or in the mountains. Teachers are pressed into the service of the summer schools, and occasionally one hears a little grumbling about it. As a matter of fact, there are few teachers not willing to make a little extra money, even if it means their losing part of their holiday, and now that the pay day of the summer teachers has come around, there is a general wonderment as to whether it was not a pretty good thing for the teachers, after all.

No Careworn Look from Rehearsals.

Lillian Russell, radiant in her summer costume, was bowling smoothly up Broadway this afternoon, in her new automobile. It is a low-hung affair, with a cover, and is about as luxurious a thing as can be conceived. Lillian had been to rehearsal at Weber & Field's, but she had not the careworn look that is usually to be seen on the face of the young woman who has been spending four or five hours at rehearsal, under the eye of a somewhat fractious stage manager.

Quigg Ready for Usual Fight.

Lemuel Ely Quigg, the irrepressible, is preparing to plant his standard on the summit of the Republican fort, and to defend it to the last gasp. That is the way of the man, and his friends are cheering him on quite in the old style. As has often been remarked, "you cannot down Quigg," at least not often. The question of selecting a temporary chairman for the Republican state convention will in all probability figure prominently at the meetings of the Republican state committee and the county executive committee, which are to be held in this city tomorrow. While it is not expected that anything definite will be formally decided on the subject, the result may be a fine row between the men who are backing Lemuel Ely Quigg for the honor and those opposed to him.

Newsboy Rich Enough to Retire.

There is money in selling newspapers, if one has the push, and is careful to sell the papers the people want. Among the best customers of newspaper vendors are persons who are too ill to go about their daily vocations, but, at the same time, are well enough to take an interest in passing events through the public prints. Here is proof of it: John Mangles, known to patients and attaches of Bellevue hospital for eight years as one of the two boys having the privilege of selling newspapers through the hospital, has decided to retire, having accumulated a fortune estimated at from $10,000 to $12,000. Mangles is only 20 years old. Eight years ago he succeeded his uncle, John Stellner, who for 30 years previously had the exclusive right to sell papers in Bellevue hospital. Mangles is about to marry a nice young woman and will try to make a store keep them both.

Old Charity to Have New Home.

The American Female Guardian Society and Home for the Friendless, one of the oldest of the charitable associations in this city, will have a new home at the beginning of next month. It is at Woodycrest avenue and One Hundred and Sixty-second street—a long way uptown. The society for more than 50 years occupied the buildings at 29 East Twenty-ninth street and No. 30 East Thirtieth street, on the site of which the Woman's hotel is now being put up. With the money received from the sale of that site the society purchased the ground at Woodycrest avenue and One Hundred and Sixty-second street, and a year ago began the erection of the buildings it is to occupy September 1. Toward the erection of the building Miss Helen M. Gould, who is one of the executive committee of the society, gave $20,000 and she has also furnished the children's playrooms.

Richly Deserving.

From the Atlanta Constitution.

A monument for Bret Harte! All lovers of the romance that has helped to make American literature famous will gladly contribute to it. He was the best of truly American story-tellers, whose pen retained its cunning to the last. And as poet, too, he stood among the eminent—pure gold, to the core.

AMERICAN POST IS ATTRACTIVE

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

The refusal of the Swiss minister plenipotentiary in London to accept his transfer to Washington, which is spoken of in the cable dispatches as a diplomatic incident, must not be looked upon in the light of any expression of distaste on the part of Dr. Bourcart for this country.

Dr. Bourcart has spent so many years in England, first as secretary of legation and then as minister of the Swiss republic—some 20 years all together—that he naturally resents being shifted at short notice from a post regarded as the blue ribbon of the Swiss diplomatic service to the more remote Washington, solely in order to make way for the transfer to the court of St. James of Dr. Carlin, who has made a failure at Rome.

All Dr. Bourcart's associations are English. It is in England his entire married life has been spent. His children are at school there. He is popular in English society and at court, besides being a member of the Travelers' which is the most exclusive of London clubs. He naturally does not relish the idea of breaking with all this in short order, and, being a rich man, can afford to dispense with the meager salary which he has drawn as minister plenipotentiary of the republic of Switzerland in London. I mention this for the sake of removing the impression that Dr. Bourcart's refusal to accept the transfer to Washington is due to his regarding the national capital here as the Botany Bay of the diplomatic service of Europe. That it was looked upon in this light in days gone by is no secret, and the best men were wont to prefer some minor post in Europe to a full-fledged mission at Washington. But all that has changed now. The diplomatic posts in the United States are now looked upon in an entirely different light, and as leading to fame and honor. Only the best men are sent, and the late Lord Pauncefote, Mr. Cambon, the French ambassador, and Count Cassini, the astute ambassador of the czar, as well as the very up-to-date and brilliant Italian ambassador, are illustrations thereof.

Idols Shattered Every Day.

This is an iconoclastic age. We have always been led to believe until now that the red dagger that figures on the coat of arms of the city of London had been granted to the metropolis by King Richard II. in memory of Sir William Walworth, then lord mayor of London, having drawn his dagger and killed the insurrent leader, Wat Tyler, when the latter had addressed the monarch in a tone of insolence.

Investigation by antiquarians and experts in heraldry have lately brought to light the fact that the dagger appears upon the city of London seal at a far earlier date than that of the stabbing of Wat Tyler, and the dagger is no dagger at all, but in reality the sword of St. Paul, who is the patron saint of London.

All our cherished beliefs are proved to be unfounded. We have even been brought to lose faith in William Tell, who is now shown to have been a mythical personage. It is a question whether we are the happier for knowledge of this kind and whether it would not be preferable to leave us in the enjoyment of the illusions of our youth.

One Life Nearer Estates.

Prince Charles Furstenberg, who was in this country a short time ago and extensively entertained in several of the big cities, including New York, and who is about to marry the eldest daughter of Count Tassilo Fosteties, has just been brought one life nearer the chieftainship of his family and the possession of immense estates by the tragic death of his nephew, eldest son and heir of the reigning prince, who has succumbed at the age of 12 to a fracture of the skull sustained through a fall from his bicycle while riding on the stone-paved square in front of his father's magnificent palace of Donaueschingen. The boy has two younger brothers of tender age who survive, and it is in their default that Prince Charles will succeed to the family honors and property. He is the widow of the late Prince Egon Furstenberg, former chief of the family, and cousin of Prince Charles, who is now married to Count Jean de Castellane, brother-in-law of Anna Gould. There is nothing about which the king of Italy is so sensitive as his stature, which is under five feet. Knowing this, the Seal, the leading Republican organ of Italy, published at Milan, calls attention to the fact that over 2,000 recruits were refused during the past year as unfit for service in the Italian army on account of deficient stature, their height being in almost every case either identical or slightly superior to that of the king. The Seal suggests that, in view of the fact that the monarch is the commander-in-chief of the army, his stature might at least be accepted as the minimum standard of height required for service in the military forces of Italy.

Special Succession Provided.

The special provision made by the English crown for the succession of Lord Kitchener's new peerage, which is to go to his brothers in default of any issue of his own, calls to mind the fact that almost every British peerage conferred for great military or naval services has been bestowed with a special reminder of this kind. Thus Lord Kitchener's viscounty and Lord Roberts' earldom are in each case to go by special remainder to their respective daughters, owing to the two field marshals in question having no sons.

Admiral Lord Nelson's earldom at his death was inherited first of all by his brother, a clergyman, and then by a son of his sister, who bore the family name of Bolton, and who was the father of the present Lord Nelson. The dukedom of Marlborough conferred upon the victor of Blenheim, passed upon the latter's death by special remainder first of all to his daughter, Henrietta, and then to the eldest son of his younger daughter Anne, namely Charles Spencer, earl of Sunderland, ancestor of the present duke of Marlborough. So it is with nearly every military or naval peerage that has been bestowed by the British crown and there are but few instances in which they are held by the direct descendants in the male line of the original holder of the honors.

Princess in Prison.

The Russian princess, Radziwill, now serving a sentence of imprisonment in South Africa on a charge of fraud in connection with a forgery in the name of Cecil Rhodes to bills of exchange which she discounted, is not the only princess of the house of Radziwill who is doing time. There is another one in the terrible Russian penal colony of Saghalion, arrayed in the gray garb and hideous headgear of the Russian convict, an apparel which fails to disguise entirely the distinguished and aristocratic bearing and appearance of this once beautiful woman.

Her life has been one of most tragic romance. She is by birth an Austrian, the only daughter of one of the great landed proprietors of Galicia, who was likewise a member of the reichsrath at Vienna. Married to one of the Russian princes Radziwill she became infatuated by a man for whose sake she left her husband and children, but who, after a few weeks, deserted her. Two years ago she suddenly came face to face with him in the streets of Wilna and shot him through the head, killing him instantly with a small revolver she had been carrying for months for the purpose. Had the crime taken place in France she would probably have been acquitted by the jury. But in Russia things are managed differently, and after a lengthy trial she was sentenced by the Wilna tribunal to ten years penal servitude in the island of Saghalion, where she is herded with several other titled ladies who have been unfortunate enough to become involved in the meshes of the criminal code of that country.

PERSONALS.

The Rev. T. P. Potts is spending a few days in this city. He will be remembered by many hereabouts, having formerly for eight years, worked successfully in the Vanport, Industry and Bethlehem churches of the Allegheny presbytery. He left those churches last April, after having made several ineffectual attempts to resign. The churches are so widely separated that he found the work too much for one man to attend to. Since leaving these charges, Mr. Potts has been laboring in the "Blackrock" regions, where he found the work fascinating, the people most interesting and of very receptive minds. Mr. Potts is undecided as to his future field of labor. Although he has had several calls, he has not accepted any.

Last night a quartet of officials of the J. M. Guffey Petroleum Company, J. C. McDowell, general manager; P. M. Bullock, sales agent; W. L. Mellon, vice president, and George L. Craig, left for Beaumont, Tex. Mr. Craig has resigned the office of treasurer and secretary of the Jeannette Gas Company and the Greensburg Natural Gas Company to accept the position of assistant to Vice President W. L. Mellon, and his first duties in that official capacity will be to take charge of the transportation end of the big corporation's business. Mr. Craig was formerly associated with W. L. Mellon as general superintendent when he operated the W. L. Mellon and Crescent pipe lines.

James H. Chalk of the United States revenue cutter service spent the day in Pittsburgh. He was at the Duquesne, and in the afternoon made an inspection of the plant of the National Tube Company, at McKeesport. The government is having the United States Steamship Winona refitted at the yards of the Cramps in Philadelphia, and Mr. Chalk was detailed here to make an inspection of the work being done for the vessel.

"I have been a commercial man for 20 years," remarked E. P. Shoemaker, at Newell's hotel last night, "and want to say that Pittsburgh has poor accommodations for travelers. At this season of the year, the hotels are filled and the last fellow who gets in must hunt his accommodations. I hope that Mr. Frick will build his big hotel, as it is badly needed."

President Patrick Dolan of the Pittsburgh organization of the United Mine Workers departed last night for New York, whence he will sail today for London to participate as fraternal delegate for the American Federation of Labor, in the British trades congress. Secretary William Dodds and a committee of mine workers bade him farewell at the train.

George Curry and his family arrived in Carnegie yesterday morning, after an eight weeks' vacation. They drove from Key West, Fla., a distance of almost 1,800 miles. The family formerly resided in McKees Rocks, where Mr. Curry was engaged in the undertaking business. He is now the proprietor of a large orange plantation in California.

W. H. Allen, district passenger agent of the Wisconsin Central railroad at Pittsburgh, who has been very ill at Cambridge Springs, has so far improved that his recovery seems assured, and today he will be removed to his home at Erie. There is general congratulation among his friends at his improvement, as the worst was feared.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Miss Sue F. Perrin.

Miss Sue F. Perrin of Brooklyn, N. Y., is dead at the home of her brother, William H. Perrin, at No. 3523 Broad street, East End, after a short illness. Miss Perrin some time ago came to Pittsburgh to nurse her sister, Mrs. N. B. Rose of Washington, Pa., who was ill at one of the hospitals in this city. Mrs. Baker died a short time ago, and Miss Perrin became afflicted with the ailment and died Thursday night. Three brothers survive: Dr. Thomas L. Perrin of Brooklyn; W. H. of the East End, and Upton G. of Crafton.

Got Out an "Extra."

From the Saltsburg Press.

The editor of a rural newspaper was in Philadelphia during the week following the shooting of President McKinley and noted with surprise the promptness of the newspapers there to bulletin hourly the report of the president's condition. He determined to adopt the idea on all important events when he should return home. Soon afterward he was told one morning by the local physician that Deacon Jones was seriously ill. The deacon was a man of some distinction in the community, so the editor posted a series of bulletins as follows:

10:00 a. m.—Deacon Jones no better.
11:00 a. m.—Deacon Jones has relapse.
12:30 p. m.—Deacon Jones weaker. Pulse failing.
2:15 p. m.—Deacon Jones has a slight rally.
4:10—Deacon Jones has died and gone to heaven.

Later in the afternoon a traveling salesman happened by, stopped to read the bulletin, and going to the bulletin board made another report concerning the deceased. It was:

5:00 p. m.—Great excitement in heaven. Deacon Jones has not yet arrived.

SCHEME TO ADD TO THE CAPACITY OF RESERVOIR

New Plan Has Been Submitted to Director J. G. McCandless.

WILL BE A GALA OCCASION

Members of Councils and City Officials, Including Controller John B. Larkin, Will Be Invited to Inspection Before Water Is Turned In.

A plan for the enlargement of Highland reservoir No. 2 is before Director J. Guy McCandless of the department of public works for his approval. He had a talk with Supt. Frank W. Schwartz of the bureau of construction about the matter yesterday, but he has not yet decided what he will do with it. It is believed, however, that he will approve of it. It will add to the capacity of the reservoir, and it is said that it will not entail a great amount of labor. This will necessitate a change in the plans and specifications, and it is doubtful whether Controller John B. Larkin would permit the change. The city government is going on the theory, however, that Controller Larkin is against their method of procedure anyway, and that any additional trouble cannot make much difference.

The question of this enlargement will not be settled, however, until City Recorder J. O. Brown has had a chance to look at the plans. Director McCandless is not anxious to take the responsibility for it and he is not disposed to make a move until he is instructed to do so by the recorder.

Will Take Matter Up.

The matter has been thoroughly explained to the director by Superintendent Schwartz, and he will take it up with the recorder as soon as the latter returns from the east, which will probably be about next Monday. A cabinet meeting is slated for Monday morning and the matter will be talked about at this meeting. The fact that this great improvement has become a political issue is disturbing to the city administration.

Director McCandless said yesterday that he had not had a report from Engineer John G. Trimble, who is in charge at the reservoir, since his return to the city, but that he expected to see him at once. "The bottom of the reservoir will be completed in a very short time," said Director McCandless yesterday. "Just how soon I am not sure, as I have not had a report from Engineer Trimble since my return to the city, but I shall have a report as soon as I am able to see him.

Reservoir to Be Filled.

"I shall then make arrangements for covering the bottom of the reservoir with water, as this will assist in protecting it. It will be thoroughly inspected before the water is turned in, however, so that there can be no complaint about that."

The day when the bottom of Highland reservoir is completed will be a gala one. Director McCandless said yesterday that he expects to invite the members of city councils to be present and inspect the reservoir thoroughly before the water is turned on. Members of councils will be taken to the park by special traction cars and will be conveyed from the end of the car lines to the reservoir in carriages. Every city official will be invited to accompany the party, and Director McCandless said an invitation would be sent to City Controller Larkin.

Controller May Investigate.

"Controller Larkin will have the privilege of making any inspection he chooses," said the director, "and he may delegate to any person the privilege of making the inspection for him. When the city takes charge of it the controller is at perfect liberty to do whatever he chooses on there. So long as it is in the hands of the contractor we cannot give any orders as to who shall be admitted and who shall be excluded. After we get it no one will be excluded. I want every one to be satisfied with the work on this reservoir before the city takes it off the hands of the contractors."

The bridge committee of the Twenty-first ward has made arrangements to talk to Director McCandless concerning the Lincoln avenue bridge and the stoppage of work out there. The ward wants to know why the work was stopped and they want Director McCandless to make some arrangement by which the old bridge may be used until the new one is completed. The director says that it is his intention to use this old bridge.

HELD FOR DAUGHTER'S DEATH.

Coroner's Jury Returns John Ruskosky of Braddock, for Murder.

John Ruskosky, a Pole, was held by the coroner's jury yesterday to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of murdering his 7-weeks-old daughter. He was committed to jail by Coroner McGeary.

Mrs. Elizabeth Riley, who lives at No. 3 Seventh street, Braddock, next door to Ruskosky, said that she saw the father throw the child on the bed. Mary Sullivan testified that Ruskosky had abused the child on several occasions. Dr. E. H. Baer, who made a post-mortem examination, said that he found a blood clot on the brain, caused by spasms, superinduced by injuries.

BYERS MEMORIAL HALL, the gift of the late Alexander M. Byers to Yale university as a memorial to his son, Alexander M. Byers, Jr., is nearly completed. Work on the exterior is practically finished and rapid progress is being made on the interior. The building is expected to be finished late in September and will be opened in October.

Byers Memorial hall is only one of several new buildings now being erected at New Haven for the university, which celebrated its bi-centennial a few months ago. The new bi-centennial buildings, the direct result of several large memorial gifts made at that time, are nearly finished. Just opposite them on College street stands Byers Memorial hall, a stately building of white limestone, an adaptation of the colonial style of architecture, imposing and generous in its proportions. Tall colonial columns support the portico opening into the general reception hall.

Byers Memorial hall is a memorial to one of the most progressive of the young men of Pittsburgh who, immediately after his graduation from college, took up his share in his father's large manufacturing interests. His death was followed a few months later by that of his father, and the wish of the father has been carried out by Mrs. Byers and her sons.

Alexander M. Byers, Jr., was a student in the Sheffield Scientific school, class of '04, and the Byers Memorial hall will be the home of all the students in that department of the university. The building will be a general clubhouse, with reception rooms, library and reading rooms, billiard hall, smoking rooms and general clubrooms upon the first and second floors, while the third floor will be set aside for dormitories. The hall will be open to all students in Sheff.

Throughout the summer since college closed work has been progressing rapidly on the new buildings. Girders and iron beams have been put in place, the sound of the mallet and chisel have been heard as the sculptural features have been fashioned. Roofing the buildings is now under way. With the bi-centennial buildings, Woolsey hall as they are called, the Byers Memorial hall and the Clinical building of the medical school, which will be ready for the beginning of the fall term, Yale will have several new buildings for recitation and class work and for the housing of her students.

J. Frederic Byers, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander M. Byers, is the only representative of the family at present in Yale. He was coxswain in the boat crew last year and goes back to college in September to complete his course. His next older brother, E. M. Byers, was the golf champion of Yale when he was graduated a year ago from the university. His latest achievement was the defeat of W. L. Travis, the national golf champion.

NEW FREIGHT ROUTE TO THE NORTHWEST

Bessemer & Lake Erie, Lake Erie & Detroit River and Pere Marquette Companies Joined.

A new freight route from Pittsburgh to the west, northwest and points in Michigan has been arranged as the result of a number of recent conferences between the officials of the Bessemer & Lake Erie, the Pere Marquette, and the Lake Erie & Detroit River railroad companies. Commercial Agent F. A. Butterworth of the Pere Marquette announced the fact yesterday. The new route is from Pittsburgh to Conneaut by way of the Bessemer & Lake Erie, from Conneaut across Lake Erie by the Bessemer car-ferries to Rondeau, thence by the Lake Erie & Detroit River railroad to Port Huron and the Pere Marquette into Michigan, or to connections with the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, the Chicago & Northwestern, or the Wisconsin Central for all points in the west or northwest.

It is expected that this new line will take an active part in the transportation of iron and steel products, iron ore and coal between the Pittsburgh district and these points, since it taps a region that produces the ore and uses a great deal of the other freight.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 15.—Barney Dreyfuss' pirate band was cast upon the beach at this port today, and what they did not appropriate in the line of runs and hits could be placed in a very small thimble. About 1,200 Smoketown rooters were at Inlet park, and that place was crowded to its fullest capacity. They were a merry bunch, and the fun started in the very first inning.

Doheny opened the battle with a few twisters and the locals are still wondering how they missed the ball. When Tannehill led off for the Pirates, Brown, the Atlantic City twirler, seemed to fear what was to come. Tannehill landed a safe one as did Beau. The fusilade was kept up until four men had crossed the plate. By this time the Pittsburgh rooters were rolling on the grandstand floor with laughter. The next inning the Pirates took a rest. Doheny retired the locals in one, two, three order. In the third, the Pirates once more opened fire, and repeated the first inning.

Tannehill found the fence too low and the ball landed over in the fishers' camp. It was all lovely until the sixth, when the one man out, Dickson got a hit. Melcher was an easy out. Tracy walked up to the plate with blood in his eye and landed on one of Doheny's slow ones. It was good for two bags and Dickson scored. The side was then retired. The Pirates, maddened by the point made, started in like bulls. The picnic started with Smith up. Brown had only to pitch one and two balls to each player and it was accepted as a hit. Thoroughly weakened by the work of running bases, Dreyfuss commanded his men to slow up and they obeyed. All was over but the shouting, of which there was enough to raise the tidal wave. The boys took a rest after supper, as it was badly needed. The score:

PIRATES LEADER HOME.

Manager Clarke Is in Bad Shape—Double Header Today.

Manager Clarke, the doughty leader of the champion Pirates, and Pitcher Chesbro got home yesterday from the east and both were glad to get back to the Smoky City. Manager Clarke is in bad shape, being threatened with blood poisoning from an old wound.

The Pirates' leader reported that American league emmisaries have been making overtures to some of the champions, but he does not fear losing any of his players. The team returns home today and will open up with a double-header with Philadelphia, the first game starting at 1:30. It is likely that O'Connor or Zimmer will play first base in the absence of Bransfield, who is also out of the game by reason of an injury. The Pirate pitchers today will likely be Leever and Chesbro.

KENNEDY AND YOUNGS.

Both Are in Fine Shape for Their Battle at Kittanning.

Eddie Kennedy, who meets Joe Youngs, Buffalo's crack welterweight, next Wednesday night at the Kittanning opera house in a 20-round argument, will leave this evening for Kittanning with Billy Corcoran. Kennedy has been training for two weeks and looks as hard as nails. Corcoran has engaged training quarters at the Cliff Spring Inn, a summer resort. Youngs has also been in training for two weeks and looks in good form. Youngs will train here until Tuesday and will leave with his manager and a few friends. Youngs has been boxing all the local talent that could be induced to box him and good judges claim he is faster and stronger than the local man. A few bets were made, with Kennedy a slight favorite.

The men met and renewed a former quarrel and Gorman emptied the contents of a shotgun into Streeter's body. Gorman is under arrest.

FAST MOTOR RACE ON FOR TONIGHT

JOE NELSON, THE BOY RECORD HOLDER, AGAINST FREEMAN.

Both Have Been Riding Very Fast, Nelson Establishing Records in His Last Contest—Here and Freeman Defeating McFarland on Monday Night.

Joe Nelson, the 18-year-old sensation of the motor tank, and Howard Freeman, the victor of last Monday night over the famous Floyd McFarland, will compete tonight at the Colosseum in what should prove one of the most interesting and closely contested races that the new track has ever witnessed. Nelson has justly been hailed as the sensation of the present season—a mere boy in appearance who has defeated some of the strongest limbed giants of the pedal, and in his last race here established new world's records in defeating that renowned sprinter of former circuit days, Nat Butler.

Though his motor dropped him by mistake with over a quarter of a lap of the last mile to be ridden, Nelson rode in time of 1:48 3-5. He has continued his good record on eastern tracks and has earned the right to meet the very topnotchers among motor-pace followers, races already having been arranged with Walthour, Elkes and Champion.

Freeman has ridden on the local track more than any other rider outside of Benny Munroe, and his victory here this week over Floyd McFarland is still fresh in the minds of local enthusiasts.

Nelson will arrive in Pittsburgh early this morning. He will bring with him his famous pacing machine, the "Red Devil," behind which he has made all of his records. The same team which paced him in his race with Butler on the local track.

Freeman, who has been in Pittsburgh all week, did some fast riding yesterday afternoon, making mile in 1:22 with 1:21 without apparent effort. Nelson will need all his speed, as Freeman is determined to add another victory to his long string of 17 victories out of 24 races thus far.

The entries for the half-mile novice race, which will be the first event of the meet tonight, are Henry Giles, F. W. Balser, C. D. Niel, Clyde Garber, W. V. Campbell, Harry Roessing, Joseph Ohen, Charles Burgum and Howard Davis.

The entries for the two-thirds mile handicap are Harry Brown, Charles Reel, Percy Brown, C. C. Hartman, Wilkie Hall, C. B. Leonard, W. B. Wilhelm and W. A. Hoffeldt.

GOLFING CARD TODAY.

Inter-Club Team Match and Three Medal Play Handicaps Scheduled.

The local golf schedule for today offers a match contest and three club handicap medal play competitions. The match will be played on the Edgewood Golf club course between teams of Edgewood and Pittsburgh Field club players, it being the second contest of the season for the Pittsburgh Field club.

On the Allegheny Country club links, back of Sewickley, there will be decided an 18-hole handicap for a cup offered by George P. Nicola.

The members of the Westmoreland Country club will contest on the Logans Ferry course for one of the series of cups offered this season by W. H. Nimick. The play will be 18 holes under handicaps.

The McVay cup will be played for on the Edgeworth course at Sewickley. The conditions today call for 18 holes under handicap, and the maker of the lowest net score will on next Saturday meet Christy Payne in 18 holes of match play. Three victories are necessary for possession of the cup and Mr. Payne has now won two. The makeup of the teams for the Edgewood-Field club match will be as follows:

Edgewood.	Field Club.
Robert Kester, Jr.	C. B. Fownes.
Joseph Hill.	W. C. Fownes, Jr.
G. W. Wurzell.	C. C. Preston.

Good Playing in Final and Consolation Match.

I., Aug. 15.—A large gallery gathered about the courts of the Meadow club today to witness the playing of the famous trio of Englishmen in the closing matches of the mixed doubles in the Long Island championship tennis tournament. In the afternoon the final match in the mixed doubles resulted in a decisive victotry for Miss Hollins and R. F. Doherty, the former English champion, over Mrs. Russell Hoadley and H. T. WILL BE USED IN NAVY.

The Yacht Uncle Sam Will Do Duty in Germany.

BERLIN, Aug. 15. — The American yacht Uncle Sam of the race-about class, which was bought by Emperor William from Francis R. Riggs of New York after the boat had won the emperor's gold cup at the international regatta at Kiel, has been overhauled and turned over to the navy. The little yacht, which is 41 feet 10 inches over all and 21 feet on the water line, is to be used for practice in learning how to best handle small craft. The emperor knows that Germans do not get as good results from their yachts as do American and English yachtsmen. He observed that the naval cadets at Kiel were wet and failed to make the best of the Comet's strong points. Capt. Ben Parker told the emperor this when that skipper's opinion was asked and the emperor expressed his dissatisfaction at the work done on the Comet. The fact that the emperor had an English racing crew aboard the Meteor with 14 picked German sailors as apprentices is another example of his belief that Germans are not so adept in handling racing craft as might be desired.

GREAT GOING. ON FAST TRACK AT BRIGHTON

The 2:04 Pace Was Exciting and Was Won by Audubon Boy.

WALNUT HALL'S ODD RACE

Broke Badly, but Held Lead and Was Allowed the Heat—Hontas Crook Won Amateur Pace and Imogene Won Amateur Trot.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 15. — Perfect weather and a fast track again favored the grand circuit meeting at Brighton Beach today. The feature of the program was the John K. Shultz purse of $5,000 for trotting four-year-olds, for which the bay filly Zephyr, by Zombro, was the favorite at 100 to 70 for the pick. With the advantage of the pole and Geers in the sulky she won in straight heats.

In the first heat she went to the quarter in 31¾, to the half in 1:04 and came home as she pleased in 2:11¼. The second heat was a repetition of the first, but in the third the favorite broke. Mixine took the lead and held it to the top turn, looking like a winner, but Zephyr came on again in the stretch and won by half a length.

The Pace Was Exciting.

The 2:04 pace brought out a high class field and hopes were high that Audubon Boy would be able to force Dan Patch to go a fast mile, but the latter did not start. Audubon Boy was a hot favorite at 50 to 15. With the word Shadow Chimes pushed to the front; Indiana was second and the favorite close up. They went up the back stretch lapped. At the three quarters pole Audubon Boy moved up and Shadow Chimes broke. Fanny Dillard then came fast from the rear, challenging the leader and in a close and exciting finish she was only beaten by half a length by the favorite.

In the second heat the veteran Connor rushed off with the lead and held it to the three-quarter pole with Audubon Boy second and Fanny Dillard third. As they rounded for home the favorite and Dillard shot by Connor and were soon joined by Shadow Chimes, finishing in that order.

The 2:16 class trotting was on the novelty plan, the winners going to the barn after the first and second heats. Walnut Hall, a grand looking brown stallion by Conductor, was a prohibitive favorite for the first heat. He broke badly after passing the first turn and did it so well that he was f

Tent Services Continue to Be Interesting—Educators Are Among Those Who Will Act as Supplies for the Local Pastors.

The August vacation dullness is still in evidence in church circles. The great majority of the pastors of the churches of the two cities will not be in their pulpits tomorrow. Some of them have secured supplies. In other churches no services whatever will be held. In only a few will more than one service be held.

A special service is to be held tomorrow evening at the Christian Tabernacle, at Sylvania and Estella streets, on the Hill Tops. In case the weather is suitable this service will be held on the lawn, otherwise in the tabernacle. The Rev. M. N. Wilson will have for the subject of his discourse "How to Break Off Bad Habits."

Tomorrow is the 12th Sunday after Trinity, and the Rev. A. W. Mann, the pioneer of the deaf mute missions in the middle west, will conduct services at St. Margaret's mission in the chapel of Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, Sixth avenue, at 10:45 a. m. and 3 p. m. The holy communion will be administered at the morning service. Tomorrow is also known as "Ephphatha," or "Deaf-Mute Sunday." The Greek word, which means "be opened," is found in the gospel for the day, the latter part of the seventh chapter of St. Mark. The day is thus closely associated with the "voiceless ministry" maintained by the Episcopal church for many years—the initial movement in the United States taking place in 1850, at the east. Her prayer book system is so well adapted to the spiritual needs of the deaf as a means of worship and instruction. In 1873 the work reached the dioceses of the west when the Rev. Mr. Mann began founding "silent missions" in the large cities.

The Presbyterian gospel tent service continues to go on well in this city. Meetings are held each day in each tent. The children's services are especially well attended and much interest is manifested in them. Beginning tomorrow evening the Rev. G. P. Atwell will conduct the services at the tent in the Bloomfield district and the Rev. C. S. Beatty those at Brushton.

Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock tent services will be conducted at Butler and Forty-seventh streets under the auspices of the Lawrenceville branch of the Young Men's Christian association. The Rev. Mr. McCurdy of the Denny Methodist Episcopal church will speak.

As stated, several of the pulpits in the two cities are to be occupied by supplies, and included in these will be several prominent churchmen. The Rev. Dr. McCombs of the Hanover (Ind.) college will preach in the Wilkinsburg Presbyterian church tomorrow morning. The Rev. A. F. Walker, principal of the Hollidaysburg seminary, will preach in the North Presbyterian church. Allegheny, the Rev. H. T. Lindsay, D. D., pastor, tomorrow morning and evening. The Rev. Robert W. Van Kirk of Rockland, Me., will preach tomorrow morning and evening in the Fourth Avenue Baptist church. The Rev. William Van Kirk of New York will speak in the Homestead Methodist Episcopal church tomorrow morning and in the evening in the Homestead United Presbyterian church on "Wines of the Bible, and What They Teach." The Rev. Clarence E. Hills will preach tomorrow morning in the Point Breeze Presbyterian church, East End. The Rev. Presly Thompson of Washington, Pa., will conduct services in the Shadyside United Presbyterian church tomorrow morning. The Rev. Charles Herron, D. D., of Troy, O., will deliver sermons morning and evening in the Third Presbyterian church, South Negley and Fifth avenues. At the Sixth United Presbyterian church in North Highland avenue, the Rev. Dr. R. M. Russell, pastor, the Rev. Scott F. Hershey, pastor of the Columbia Avenue Presbyterian church of Boston, will preach in the morning.

LUNACY CASE ARGUED.

Judge Criswell Heard Pleadings in Exceptions Filed by Mrs. Miller at Franklin.

FRANKLIN, PA., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—Judge Criswell today listened to the arguments for and against the exceptions filed by Mrs. Charles Miller against the finding of the jury in the lunacy inquisition, which declared that she was a lunatic. The Hon. James Denton Hancock and John O. McCalmont spoke in behalf of Mrs. Miller. They placed most stress upon those exceptions relating to the exclusion of the testimony of Dr. W. F. Myers and S. P. McCalmont.

W. H. Forbes and J. S. Carmichael argued for Gen. Miller. Mrs. Miller's counsel did not mention the exception in which it was alleged that the reporters at the hearing were under the influence and control of Gen. Miller, Judge Criswell having indicated that he would hear no arguments on that point. The law gave him no authority to listen to anything outside of the testimony.

The court reserved its decision. The opinion will likely be rendered at the opening of the August term of quarter sessions court ten days hence.

HIT BY STRAY BULLET.

Secretary of Altoona School Board is Wounded in the Head.

ALTOONA, PA., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—Supposed reckless shooting by a couple of boy marksmen last night, is responsible for a bullet wound inflicted above the left ear of C. M. Piper, secretary of the Altoona school board. The shooting occurred in a lane, near Bakers station. When Secretary Piper alighted from a trolley car at the home of David Bell the bullet struck him.

Despite the wound, bleeding profusely, he managed to get aboard a car and return to this city, where the ball, which lodged in the flesh above the ear, was extracted.

CONTRACTOR ENJOINED.

Pittsburgh Railways Company Objects to Earth Washed on Its Tracks.

An injunction was obtained in common pleas court No. 3 yesterday by the Pittsburgh Railways Company against Adolph Doerr and Louis Walker, his employe, restraining them from permitting earth to accumulate upon the tracks of the Dravosburg branch of the Pittsburgh Railways Company at Hope Church, Mifflin township.

The plaintiffs claim they have expended $1,500 in clearing their tracks from the earth that has been washed upon the tracks during the recent rains from a new roadway Doerr is building along the hillside above the car line. The new road bed extends along the hillside for about 1,500 feet and the entire track for this distance has suffered. August 23 is the date set for a hearing to make the injunction permanent.

Anthracite Strike Likely to Keep Him Away on Labor Day.

Secretary William Dodds of the Pittsburgh district organization of the United Mine Workers of America yesterday received word from President John Mitchell that with the anthracite strike on he can not promise to come to Pittsburgh Labor Day.

It is said to be likely that Vice President T. L. Lewis will accept the invitation, along with T. W. Powderly, past master workman of the Knights of Labor, and Frank P. Sargent, past grand chief of the railway firemen, and now immigration commissioner.

CONSOLIDATION OF GOULD ROADS IS LOOKED FOR

Heavy Corn Crop Expected to Have Important Influence and Stocks Go Up.

NEW HIGH RECORD MADE

Missouri Pacific Goes Booming Despite Realization—Keene Putting Up Price of Southern Pacific—Aged Story Again Denied.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 15.—The prominence of southwestern railroad stocks in the markets this week, although to some extent the result of bullish manipulation, clearly reflects the popular belief that the long promised consolidation of Gould properties into "a greater Missouri Pacific system" is near at hand. Earlier this year the discussion of this thing was discouraged by official interests, who said that the working out of the project would depend wholly upon the outcome of crops. A bumper corn crop, of course, will peculiarly benefit the southwestern properties, and insofar as any Gould deal has been depending upon crops, therefore, it would seem that all uncertainty has been removed.

Missouri Pacific advanced today to yet the highest point of this movement at 119⅝. Notwithstanding Missouri Pacific's decline of two points under professional realization, and the equally sharp reaction of Texas Pacific, the buying of St. Louis Southwestern issues continued unabated. It is firmly believed now that the Gould-Rockefeller pool will carry Missouri Pacific considerably higher. The previous high mark, 119⅜, was held to be the pathological price, crossing which Missouri Pacific should be played for at least 125. This, of course, is professional theory.

Keene Bulling Southern Pacific.

Southern Pacific made a new high record price today at 72¼. Keene followers are now talking $80 for it. In a previous letter of this correspondence it was related that Talbot J. Taylor & Co., in whose house the old Keene pool has its account, have been at considerable expense and great trouble to prepare a lot of bullish literature on Southern Pacific. This is soon to be distributed. Keene brokers have been prominent in the upbidding of the stock this week, and the western party's brokers also have been heavy buyers. In today's reaction Southern Pacific showed fine resistance. There is no particular news bearing on the stock, except further rumors of a dividend. It is a question of time only, of course, until Southern Pacific shall be put on a dividend basis, but it cannot be learned at authoritative sources that the matter has been recently discussed.

Among commission houses here there prevails a quiet belief that the banks have been rather sharp this season in putting out an unusually large volume of time money at handsome rates on the strength of intimations that call money will be likely to develop mild tantrums during the month of August. Quite a while ago the hint was given that it would not be wise to press a further supply of "one-day bills" abroad, and that our foreign creditors were indisposed even to extend maturing acceptances.

Change in Situation.

Nearly all of the large commission houses thereupon began to protect themselver against the probable flurry of call interest rates by negotiating time loans at from 4 to 5 per cent. The crop situation has greatly altered the outlook. The certainty of a tremendously large yield of corn has not only encouraged international banking houses to write a fresh supply of credit sterling bills, but has induced foreign bankers unhesitatingly to extend credit to their Wall street correspondents. The immediate result has been a sharp decline in sterling exchange rates. It is believed now that August can be tided over without heavy exports of gold.

Talk to the effect that Mr. Morgan may use his influence toward ending the anthracite coal strike emanates from sources poorly informed as to the true Morgan attitude. It may be said without fear of contradiction that Mr. Morgan is largely responsible for the policy the operators have followed since the beginning of the trouble. It was he that was most determined at the outset that political nor outside influence of any character should interfere with the business principles involved. Politics embarrassed the operators in their last previous contest, and Mr. Morgan, for one, was determined that this affair should be fought out on the lines which were unwillingly abandoned during the presidential campaign of 1900.

Same Old Untrue Tale.

That old story alleging that Mr. Schwab is about to resign from the presidency of the United States Steel Corporation has cropped up again. It may be stated on positive authority that there is no more truth to it this time than there was on any one of the several previous occasions of its circulation. On this occasion the story has been made the pretext for a personal attack upon Mr. Schwab, and this the management of the steel combine strongly resents. These latest rumors have given rise to some feeling in official circles. Undoubtedly there has been more or less friction in the management of the United States Steel Corporation. It could hardly have been otherwise. Considering the magnitude and complexity of the organization, the conduct of its affairs has been remarkably smooth. It is very easy to start rumors about big people, and sometimes very difficult to quiet the same. This current report of Mr. Schwab's retirement lacks the virtue even of being new.

Evidence multiplies to show that the Gates party and George Gould contingent have important stock market interests in common. Brokers of both parties have been bulling the same stocks. John W. Gates and George Gould were much together at Saratoga and it is believed that between them they have laid plans for several pretentious speculative undertakings. It is easy to imagine that tangible things may come of these returns. The appearance of George Gould in the Colorado Fuel directorate, at any rate, would be accepted as convincing proof that the understanding between these interests involves more than speculative designs in the stock market.

Local Stocks Were Less Active and Not Quite So Broad or Strong

WESTINGHOUSE ISSUES WERE STILL LEADERS

The Sales Were Smaller, but Were Accompanied by Much of Interest.

PHILADELPHIA CO. FIRMER

Manufacturers Light & Heat Strong and Higher—Steel Issues Quieter. Pittsburgh Coal Common Active. A. V. R. R. Preferred Did Not Sell.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday, while still fairly active, was not up to that of Thursday, the sales being smaller, while there was less excitement, breadth or strength. Generally, however, the tone was quite firm and some large advances in prices were scored. The Westinghouse issues were still leaders in point of interest, though the sales were quite insignificant. Everybody on the "street" is on the lookout for what will happen next in the group and lack of clinching details with authoritative announcements keeps them guessing. The movement in Westinghouse Airbrake, which started on the report of its getting control of its big rival, the New York Airbrake Company, has calmed down because the members of the syndicate do not seem disposed to proclaim to would-be speculators their identity or their plans. Dame Rumor, therefore, has gone to work mentioning this and that name as the ones at the helm, and of course that estimable creature knows it all. However, and notwithstanding, the pool claims that its efforts have been crowned with success and that it does not doubt the Westinghouse Airbrake Company will consummate the deal. The stock sold yesterday was 115 shares at 186½@186, a reaction of ½.

Westinghouse Electric firsts sold a little over 120 shares at 113, a gain of $3, and closed firm. The seconds were erratic, opening at 110¾, advancing to 110⅝ and breaking at the close to 109½, a loss of $1 for the day on sales of 160 shares. Union Switch & Signal was firmer, 200 shares selling at 94¾@95, a gain of ½. The preferred did not sell. A feature was the strength of Philadelphia Company issues, which were firmer, the common advancing ½ to 50, the first time it has touched par in quite a while. The preferred was not dealt in, but was steady at 49¾@50. There was quite a boom in Manufacturers Light and Heat, 350 shares selling at 73@76, a gain of $5 between sales and a new high record on the present capitalization. The alleged reasons for the advance in the stock have already been mentioned in this department and consist of a probable increase in the dividend rate from 8 to 10 per cent and success in its efforts to secure a better control of some of its constituent companies. It is also stated that about 5,000 or 6,000 shares of inside stock have recently changed hands due to the retirement of the late president. The steel issues were quieter and steady to firm. River Coal preferred reacted a fraction to 40¼, while Pittsburgh Coal common was firm, active and unchanged at 28¾. Marsden common was also quite active and advanced to 4¼, closing at 4⅛ on buying by the same house that took 1,200 shares Thursday. Window Glass common was generally irregular and rather heavy at the close, which was at 62⅝, a loss of ¼. The sales were only 500 shares. Pittsburgh Trust Company advanced $7 50 to $645 on a small sale, the price being a new high record. Federal National bank also advanced ½ to 130½. There was no more trading in the banking group, but Cosmopolitan National offered 80 shares at 110, the same price at which 313 shares sold Thursday. The significance of the heavy sale of this stock is that it will result in an important change in the policy of the institution, being in new interests and largely increase its business. In the remainder of the list there was not much doing. Allegheny Valley railroad preferred seems to have subsided for the time being and the stock passed the day without a sale, offering at the close at 52, with only 32¾ bid. Natural Gas of West Virginia advanced to 116 bid, a new high record. Bonds were dull and somewhat easier.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges gained $1,509,159 52.

Sales, Pittsburgh stock exchange, 5,646½ shares and $16,000 bonds.

Pittsburgh Trust Company advanced $7.50 to $645, a new high record.

Westinghouse Electric firsts were $3 higher at 113.

Westinghouse Electric seconds advanced to 110¾, but closed at 109½, a loss of $1 for the day.

Window Glass declined ¼ to 62¾.

Crucible Steels were unchanged.

United States Steel common closed at 40⅜.

Manufacturers Light and Heat advanced $5 to 76.

Philadelphia Company issues were firmer. Common closed at 50, a gain of ½.

Switch and Signal common advanced ½ to 95.

Pittsburgh Coal was active, closing unchanged at 28½.

Bonds were easier but dull.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers.

$5,000 Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company debenture 5s sold at 104. Robinson Bros. to Hill & Co.

R. C. Hall offered 500 Pittsburgh Coal preferred at 91, and bid 90¾ for 500, while Sproul & Co. offered 200 common at 29.

There was said to be good buying in New York Central, and reports of important developments are current about the Vanderbilt properties.

Sproul & Co. made the first sales of the day, disposing of 340 Pittsburgh Coal common at 28¾. Later Sproul & Co. sold 400 more. Lawrence and McFarlane were large buyers.

A Wall street broker wired: "I hear from a usually very well informed source that the Rockefeller-City bank people have quit the ranks of the bulls. This is very important, if true, for the bank reserves as low as at present they can give a lot of trouble in the money market."

Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

I think we shall see considerably higher prices. Every important interest is now working on the bull side. The only adverse factor is the fear of dear money, and as this will be caused only by big crops and active business, it cannot be said to be a bear argument. I think commission houses as a rule are well provided with time funds, as there has been quite an uneasy feeling about the money market lately.

We believe that any break should be taken advantage of to accumulate stocks.—Lounsbery.

Northern Securities is going higher. Getting of Oregon Short Line bonds. These are a dead open and shut cinch, good for 10 points rise. The Standard Oil people are very bullish on Missouri, Kansas & Texas, Southwestern preferred, Kansas & Texas, Southwestern preferred, Norfolk, Chesapeake & Ohio and Erie, St. Paul, Louisville & Nashville and Texas Pacific. Wabash debenture Bs are going considerably higher. The same may be said of Steels.—Josephs.

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Hay, Grain and Feed.

COL. A. J. LOGAN BOUGHT SITE AT COST OF $40,000

It Is at Liberty and Twenty-Ninth Street and Is for Mattress Factory.

TWO RESIDENCES BOUGHT

P., V. & C. R. R. Buy Four South Side Properties for $47,750 — Many Sales in Sillview Plan—$40,000 Flat for Brushton.

Col. A. J. Logan has purchased, through the Real Estate Trust Company, two properties at the northwest corner of Liberty avenue and Twenty-ninth street for $40,000 cash. One of the properties formerly belonged to James McKay and was used by James McKay & Co., chain manufacturers, until the removal of its works to McKees Rocks. The old buildings of the chain company are still standing. The other property was bought from John McDonald. It adjoins the McKay lot and with it makes a frontage of 108 feet in Liberty avenue and 100 feet in Twenty-ninth street. Plans are already prepared for A. J. Logan & Co., of which Col. Logan is president, for the erection of a modern factory for the manufacture of bed springs and mattresses, the present plant of the company at No. 113 Third avenue being much too small for its business.

Ex-Congressman Sells a Home.

Ex-Congressman William A. Sipe has disposed of one of the two new residences that he built last year in Fairmount avenue for a consideration of $21,000. The deal was negotiated by Samuel Kelly & Co. of the East End. The property, which is situated on the east side of Fairmount avenue near Harriet street, consists of a lot 50x105 feet, having erected upon it a modern colonial brick house of 12 rooms. It is next to the present home of Congressman Sipe. The purchaser, whose name was withheld, is an East End business man who bought the property for a home.

The sale was reported yesterday of what is known as the Joseph B. Shea residence in Allegheny for $30,000. The property was purchased a few months ago by J. M. Montgomery, president of the Consolidated stock exchange, who in turn has sold it to a prominent hardware merchant for a home. The lot has a frontage of 65 feet on the east side of Fayette street and 124 feet in Fulton street. The residence is one of the best in that part of Allegheny, having 15 rooms and being handsomely finished.

P. V. & C. R. R. Is Still Buying.

The Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railroad Company has bought more properties in the Twenty-fourth ward, South Side, for $47,750. One improved property was secured from Ernest Rohrka for $15,000. It is a lot 40x109 feet, facing on the southwest side of Sarah street near South Twenty-ninth street. A second property, which also brought $15,000, is an improved lot 32x40 feet, on the northeast side of Sarah street, near South Thirty-fourth street, same ward. It was formerly owned by Bertha M. Britner. A third lot was bought for $12,250 from William F. Ward. It is 20x120 feet, and is situated on the southeast side of Thirty-fourth street. The other purchase was of an improved property 16x60 feet, from Maria C. Willeme. It is located on the south side of Edwards alley near South Eighteenth street and was sold for $3,500. All the properties will be cleared off to make them available for track extension and improvements.

The congregation of the First Baptist church at McKeesport has decided by a vote of 444 members to sell their property to Donovan & Elkin of that city for $65,000. It was currently reported yesterday that a syndicate of Philadelphia capitalists is about to build a big brewery in the Brushton district. During the past week, it is said, surveyors have been at work on a tract of 15 acres which was formerly a part of the Paul Zimmerman property. Another lot, owned by W. A. Hoeveler, may also be included in the site. E. V. Heineman, who was formerly connected with the Val Blatz brewery, is said to be in the deal. No purchases have yet been made and it is expected that the project will meet with strong opposition from nearby residents, who favor a "dry" locality.

LIGHT COMPANY IS DEFENDANT IN A $15,000 SUIT

Raymond Warren Shocked by Touching Pole in Pacific Avenue.

HORSE DEAL ENDS IN COURT

Plaintiff Says He Was Induced to Buy a Kicking Animal and Wants His Money Back—Leaking Reservoir Ruins McKeesport House.

David J. Warren, for himself and son, Raymond Warren, entered suit against the Allegheny County Light Company for $15,000 damages. It is said that a rope hanging from a light pole on Pacific avenue, January 15, 1901, was charged with electricity, and in crossing the street the boy placed his hand upon it. It is stated that young Warren was rendered unconscious and permanently injured by the shock.

Because he thought he got the worst of it in a horse deal, Emil Mathias, a butcher, yesterday sued Heineman & Reed for the amount of his investment. He claims that in June last he made arrangements to purchase two horses from the defendants for $110. A bay, he says, was taken subject to trial, the owners having warranted that he was not a "kicking horse," although at the time the animal had a kicking strap on. Mathias says the animal was a "kicking horse," and he sued for the sum deposited with the defendants.

Suit was entered by Mrs. Anna J. Ernest against the city of McKeesport for $4,000 damages to property on Fourteenth street, that place. It is alleged the reservoir near the plaintiff's property leaked and as a result it caused the ground to sink and the walls of her house to break.

Second National Bank Building, Uniontown, Pa.

The Second National bank of Uniontown has just moved into one of the handsomest banking structures to be found in the vicinity of Pittsburgh. The building was designed by Architect T. H. Scott of this city and was erected by Contractor W. D. Beatty of Allegheny. It is a five-story structure of Indiana limestone and Roman brick, located at the corner of Main and Broadway streets. The dimensions are 32x88 feet. The building is strictly fireproof and is finished throughout in hardwood. The first floor is occupied by the banking rooms and the four upper floors as offices. Marble wainscoting and floors and stairways give the building a rich appearance, and a modern steam heat and electric light plant, with passenger elevators, afford the tenants the latest conveniences. The building cost $100,000. The officers of the bank are D. M. Hertzog, president; G. S. Harah, cashier, and James R. Gray, vice president.

"THE BIG STORE"

The immediate and immense response of the men of Pittsburgh to this sale is due not only to the 50 per cent discount offered on every Suit, but, more especially, because every man knows that there is no exaggeration or mis-statement in our announcements, and the plainly marked prices of our Suits, from which we offer this discount of 50 per cent, are invariably the lowest in town for the same qualities. Furthermore, the men of these two cities know and appreciate that this sale is not a matter of choice, but necessity. We are not elated about losing money, but we would rather submit to a temporary loss than set aside our policy to never carry goods from one year to another. And it isn't a total loss, either. Isn't it our customers who are benefited? Won't they come back at some future time when their patronage will mean profit to us? And won't others come here when they know that we don't carry old goods over, but open each new season with a brand new stock? Therefore, OUT with the balance of our Men's Suits—AWAY with every one of them for just half the marked price. Sacks, Cutaways and Prince Alberts, light, medium and dark patterns, plain colors and solid "Blacks" and "Blues," all are now
